

THIRTY-SIXTH YEAR

LIMA, OHIO, SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1920

PRICE FIVE CENTS

LIVING COST IN LIMA DROPS 31% IN YEAR

BIG DECLINE IN NECESSITIES

Food, Drygoods, Wearing Apparel Much Cheaper Now

CITY GOOD PLACE TO LIVE

Survey Made in Retail Stores—Other Towns Higher

Living in Lima costs 31 per cent less today than it did a year ago. This is the average when practically every article necessary is considered.

A survey just completed by The Lima News, taking into account articles of food, dry goods, wearing apparel and other necessities, shows that living costs in Lima have dropped more than in most other cities of the state.

In making up the survey, prices for November, 1919, March, 1920, and November, 1920, are considered.

BIG DECLINE SHOWN

Remarkable drops are shown in many commodities. Food has hit the toboggan. Twenty-four articles show the average decline for the period under observation was 41 per cent.

In dry goods and garments for the household 26 articles for all members of the family, show an average decline of 31 per cent.

U. S. AID ASKED IN WOMAN HUNT

Borders Watched For Alleged Slayer of Oklahoma Oil King

EXPECTED TO FLEE COUNTRY

Prosecutor Believes, However, Accused Near Tragedy Scene

ARDMORE, Okla. — An international hunt for a woman, the alleged slayer of Jake Hamon, millionaire oil king and political leader, was in progress Saturday night.

Mrs. Clara Smith, Hamon, whose rise to power, wealth and influence was co-incident with that of the promoter she is alleged to have shot, was the object of the search.

That the charges, based on information which County Attorney Brown has refused to reveal and which are surrounded in mystery, will not be withdrawn, was indicated when officials wired government officials at Washington, and asked that the Canadian and Mexican boundaries be carefully watched to prevent the woman's escape. Strong efforts have been made by Hamon's friends to have Brown withdraw his charges and permit the case to drop.

WOMAN BELIEVED NEAR

Hamon was shot last Sunday night and the woman who had occupied an adjoining room at the hotel here with him, fled immediately. She would have had time to cross either the northern or the southern boundary. Brown does not believe she had done either. The prosecutor believes she is either hiding in some nearby town or has fled to California. Brown said he would not be surprised if the desire of Mrs. Hamon to see the body of the man with whom she was associated for years, while it lies in state in Convention Hall here, would not draw her from her hiding on Monday. She has been reported seen in Ardmore and other Oklahoma towns since the warrant for her arrest was issued.

TRUNKS LOCATED

The belief that she fled to California, was caused by the fact that two of her trunks were located in Kansas City, where they had been sent after the shooting. Kansas City police watched her baggage carefully believing some one might call for it. Porters in Kansas City union station, according to word received by local authorities remember seeing a woman who answered Mrs. Hamon's description, pass thru the station. They said she met a man "who looked like a lawyer," at the station. The ushers said she boarded a Santa Fe train for the Pacific coast.

Unless Brown has some direct witnesses to the shooting, belief here Saturday night was that it would be very difficult to obtain a conviction.

CLAIMED ACCIDENTAL

Hamon contended on his deathbed that the shooting was accidental and all his friends who said they investigated the circumstances, fully voiced the same opinion.

Mrs. Hamon's statement that she had utmost confidence in her husband, also added to the belief that the woman did not do the shooting. The funeral will be held Monday. Republican leaders from the southwest will attend, doing homage to the national committeeman, who put Oklahoma in the Republican column for the first time.

GOD'S HAND SEEN IN KILLING

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Nemesis or a just ruler—whichever ever might be judged to rule the destinies of man—had a hand in the killing of Jake L. Hamon, multi-millionaire oil man and railroad magnate, whether the fatal shot which ended his life Sunday was fired by a woman or accidentally by himself.

Such is the conviction of Miss Alice Robertson, first woman elected to congress from the state of Oklahoma who is here resting from her campaign.

"I knew him," she said in an interview. "He never spoke to me after my nomination was announced. I was not his type of politician. He represented the game of politics. He played for the fun of the game, just

RESIGNS POST AS PROTEST AGAINST LABOR POLICIES

W. A. Appleton

W. A. Appleton of London, has resigned as president of the International Federation of Trade Unions. His resignation comes as a protest against the radical policies of British labor. He sides with Gompers in his opposition to radical control of the labor movement.

DIAMOND LED TO SLAYING, BELIEF

Row Over Gem Preceded Kagy Murder, Prosecutor Says

CLEVELAND — Police and the prosecutor's office Saturday night directed their effort to the discovery of the motive in the slaying of Harold Kagy, garage proprietor, following the arraignment of Judge William H. McGannon, chief justice of the municipal courts here for the killing. Judge McGannon, 45, pleaded not guilty. Bond was fixed at $10,000 and the trial set for December 14.

Prosecutor Baskin said he understood that a quarrel over a diamond ring preceded the shooting of Kagy. John W. Joyce, who was tried for the slaying and acquitted by a jury, will be one of the principal witnesses in the case. At his own trial, Joyce testified that he was leaning drunk and helpless against a telephone pole when Kagy was shot. He said he heard McGannon and Kagy quarreling a moment before the shooting.

McGannon, who was a witness for the state at the Joyce trial, said on the stand that he was not on the scene when Kagy was shot. Other witnesses, however, testified that McGannon was the mysterious third man in the case.

The county grand jury indicted McGannon for second degree murder after a week's investigation, following Joyce's acquittal. Several women were said by the prosecutor to figure in the case.

DIAMONDS TAKEN

New York Messenger Robbed of $60,000 Worth of Gems.

NEW YORK—Two tin boxes containing diamonds worth $60,000 were the loot of four daylight hold-up men who Saturday attacked David Saylor, messenger for a jewelry house, as he was leaving the Pacific bank at Forty-ninth-st and Seventh-ave, where he had removed the jewels from a safety deposit vault.

Saylor was set upon as he stepped from the bank door to the sidewalk which at that time was bustling with activity. Crowds gaped in wonderment while the messenger struggled momentarily against the heavy odds. Then the four thugs broke away and escaped in an automobile which waited for them around the corner.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. — S. H. Seely was knocked down by a motor truck Saturday while attempting to cross a street here, and then was run over and killed by an automobile.

OFFICIALS VISIT GAS FIELDS

Mayor and City Solicitor Leave Saturday Afternoon

TO PROBE FUEL SHORTAGE

Claim Poor Results From Telegrams to Gas Officials

Shortly before the departure of municipal authorities for the Medina gas fields late Saturday, in an active step towards getting to the bottom of Lima's much-juggled-about gas situation, E. R. Curtin, president of the Lima Natural Gas Co., in a letter to Mayor F. A. Burkhardt, placed the keys to the company's gas regulators at the disposal of the city.

In his letter, Curtin urged the mayor to take charge of the keys in an effort to convince consumers that the shortage is not the result of any wilful "shut-off" by gas officials here.

The city executives took a hand in the matter for the first time when Mayor F. A. Burkhardt and City Solicitor H. E. Garling started for the gas fields, near Medina.

TO PROBE SITUATION

First hand information regarding the city's low gas pressure—the reason and the remedy—were the hopes of the city officials as they started on their trip.

"Communication with the Medina Gas & Fuel company so far has brought unsatisfactory and indefinite information," the mayor said before leaving, "so we decided to make a visit to the fields and determine the cause of the depleted supply, to our own satisfaction."

The trip to the gas fields was decided upon at a conference between the mayor and city solicitor shortly before 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The two city officials departed over the Penna. R. R. at 2 o'clock. They were expected to arrive at the base of the city's gas supply between 4:30 and 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

CONFERENCE WITH GAS OFFICIALS

It was planned, the mayor said, to spend a greater part of Saturday evening with officials of the Medina Gas & Fuel company, including General Manager Ira Neely and J. H. Hinkle, the company's legal representative.

The mayor intimated the gas officials would be asked to explain the low pressure here and to state whether or not there could be any hope for relief from the present depleted supply.

The city officials' visit to Medina is the outgrowth of several telegrams received from officials there relative to the poor supply in Lima.

Friday Mayor Burkhardt wired the company regarding the situation. Early Saturday morning he received a reply from the company's legal representative stating the city would hear from General Manager Neely Saturday forenoon.

ATTACK MADE ON COAL BOARD

Fuel Companies Declare Indiana Commission Unconstitutional.

INDIANAPOLIS—A second attack by coal companies to have the new Indiana coal and food commission act declared unconstitutional by the federal court was made here Saturday at a hearing before Judge A. B. Anderson of the Indiana district court, and Judge Francis E. Baker and George T. Page of the federal court of appeals at Chicago.

Counsel for the companies asked the judges for an order enjoining the state commission, charged with the enforcement of the act, from carrying out any of its orders regulating the coal industry. Attorney General Stansbury and special counsel for the commission, opposed the companies, asserting that the regulation attempted by the state was within its police powers.

The first attempt to nullify the coal commission act was made in federal court two months ago by the American Coal company. An injunction was denied in the first suit.

SENT DESTROYER INTO KIEL HARBOR, DEFIED GERMANS

Captain Willyson

Among the U. S. navy men who played an important part in the World war and who have been rewarded for their work which went almost unnoticed in the rapid train of events at the time in Commander Ellyson, who captained a submarine. He was sent into Kiel harbor by his superior officer and signalled the German forts for permission to anchor. Failing to get a reply he anchored anyhow and when the Germans threatened to fire he told them to proceed—and that he'd do a little firing on his own hook. They failed to fire on his ship.

NO WINE FOR YEAR, VOLSTEAD SAYS

Author of Dry Act Sees No Change in Law

WASHINGTON — The Volstead law will neither be "dampened" nor made "more dusty" during the next year, Representative Volstead, of Minnesota, author of the act, predicted Saturday.

Volstead said that he had no amendments to his law to suggest and had heard of none that would demand the attention of the house judiciary committee, of which he is chairman.

OPPOSITION DYING

"I am sure no amendments of any kind to the prohibition enforcement will be passed by the coming session of congress," he declared. "Then during the coming special session there will be so many other matters of great importance, that if there should be any demand for amendments, final action could not be taken until the regular session of the new congress, which does not begin until December, 1921. I believe that the law is working well, and that much of the opposition to prohibition is dying out throughout the country."

The new congress, in the opinion of Volstead, will be drier than the present one, and he believes any proposal to restore light wines and beer would be certain to fail. The prohibition legislator pointed out that several "wet" leaders, particularly the Democrats, were caught in the Republican landslide.

COMMITTEE MAKEUP

Many new faces will appear on the judiciary committee, which frames all prohibition enforcement legislation during the special session of the new congress, to be called by President-elect Harding. Three Democrats who led the fight on the house floor against the Volstead act, will be missing. They are Representatives Gard of Ohio, Igoe of Missouri, and Steele, of Pennsylvania.

All declined to be candidates for re-election. Five new Democrats must be appointed to the committee and Volstead pointed out that in the new congress, Democrats from the south probably will have to be appointed to fill all the vacancies. Volstead does not believe that more than five or six of the judiciary committee members in the next congress will be "wets."

JEWELER SHOT, ROBBED

CLEVELAND—John C. Knittle, jeweler, died Saturday from wounds received when he was shot at his place of business Friday night by a lone bandit who escaped with diamond rings valued at $1,000.

HOME OFFICE IS BARRICADED

Precautions Taken Against Expected Sinn Fein Attack.

GUARD PARLIAMENT HOUSES

Fighting in Ireland Increases Following Wholesale Arrests.

LONDON — Mysterious precautions taken here Saturday, in guarding government buildings, including the houses of parliament, were interpreted by the press as the aftermath of discovery of a gigantic Sinn Fein plot of destruction.

Without offering any explanation to the public, officials closed the houses of parliament and refused permission for anyone to visit them.

Previously, heavy loop holed barricades were constructed in St. Charles-st on either side of the home office, while an unusually heavy cordon of policemen were thrown about Premier Lloyd George's residence.

IRISH PLOT SEEN

Some newspapers believed the barricades were intended to prevent a repetition of rioting on the occasion of the demonstration of unemployed, scheduled for next week. But when parliament was included among the places under guard, most of the press inclined toward the belief in an Irish plot.

Increased fighting in Ireland, following closely the country-wide arrests of Sinn Fein leaders, was reported in dispatches late Saturday. Advice from Cork, said the city was in a state of terror, all Friday night. There were five fires in different parts of the city and numerous bomb explosions. Rifle firing was said to have continued until after day-break.

MILITARY RAIDS CONTINUE

Military raids continued in Dublin, through the night. There were frequent bomb explosions and much rifle fire. Cordons of soldiers and policemen were thrown about whole sections of the city, to permit careful search for Sinn Fein suspects. Many arrests were made.

In Limerick an attempt was made to assassinate General Cameron as he left the barracks in a carriage. Several bullets struck the vehicle, but he was not hit.

A ship load of 5,000 government rifles arrived in Londonderry for the Ulster Volunteers.

SMASH AT SINN FEIN

DUBLIN—The British government Saturday night continued its relentless smashing at the Sinn Fein organization.

Convinced that a few hundred arrests will shatter the rebel movement, preparations were being made to handle the prisoners on a war basis. Large internment camps are being erected at Dublin and Newcastle. Plans for the operation of these camps over an extended period, have been completed down to the handling of rations.

The program to surprise and arrest continued relentlessly Saturday. Large bodies of troops were flung out to take in the prisoners. Leaders of the Sinn Fein and the Irish volunteers were brought in first. As the campaign progressed the Irish office and military intelligence obtained huge boxes of documents revealing the organization of the volunteer army.

TWO SOLDIERS KILLED

The military is proceeding in methodical manner to run down leaders of the troops and to pick up members of the ranks.

All the activity has not been on one side. Besides an attempt on the life of General Cameron Saturday an ambush was laid for a patrol at Fermoy, where two soldiers were killed and three wounded. In Tipperary, there was another skirmish in which two civilians were shot. It was stated on high authority here Saturday night that arrests in the present campaign will run into hundreds.

DECLINES INVITATION TO U. S.

LONDON — Sir Edward Carson Saturday evening curtly declined an invitation to testify before the American committee on investigation of Ireland.

LEGAL BATTLE FACED BY MARY PICKFORD

Fight Over Validity of the Screen Star's Divorce from Owen Moore Is Begun In Nevada Courts—Conspiracy With Ex-Husband Charged

MINDEN, Nev. — Little Mary Pickford, screen world celebrity, and wife of Douglas Fairbanks, Saturday night faced a long legal fight over the validity of her divorce from Owen Moore.

Attorneys for the state and defense announced, following a motion to quash the action against the film favorite, argued Saturday in superior court here, that they intended appealing whatever decision is handed down.

The action against Mary Pickford was on the ground that she and her former husband conspired to obtain their divorce. Judge Langan, who granted the divorce, heard arguments Saturday for a change of venue and for over-ruling the action, on the ground that the state was not a proper plaintiff.

The first skirmish was a dry technical affair and did not touch on the ability of the state to annul the divorce. Judge Langan announced when court adjourned he probably would rule on the motion to quash Monday morning.

Date for the trial of the suit will not be set until after the ruling on the motion.

The little Minden court room, without a claim to fame until Mary's marital troubles attracted attention, was crowded, to the doors during Saturday's session. Farmers and miners from Nevada's far corners brought their wives and families into Minden, prepared for a protracted stay. Many from nearby neighborhoods drove into the county seat, fortified with food for their horses and themselves, against the rigors of legal delays, while the town tried to tuck itself into the corners of the modest little room.

AFTER BOOZE ONLY WIDOW IS ACCUSED

Dry League Not Backing Sunday Lid, Wheeler Says.

COLUMBUS—Wayne B. Wheeler, counsel for the Anti-Saloon League of America, denied here Saturday, that the organization is connected with the movement to make Sundays "dead still" or co-operating as an organization with the Lord's Day Alliance, dedicated to bringing about a more complete observation of the Sabbath.

"The Anti-Saloon League is committed by its constitution to one activity, namely, war against evil—the beverage liquor traffic," Wheeler declared. As individuals, the officers of the association will co-operate with the movement looking to a more complete observation of the Sabbath, or they will not, according as they are individually disposed."

Rev. H. A. Straub, of Ada, a Methodist minister, is head of the Lord's Day Alliance.

FLORIDA WOMAN CHARGED WITH MURDER OF HUSBAND

FORT VALLEY, Ga. — A warrant, charging murder was sworn out against Mrs. F. Eugene Elmer of Jacksonville, Fla., widow of late Fred D. Shepard, Houston-co capitalist, here Saturday night. Mrs. Elmer is charged in the warrant with killing her former husband by poison.

The murder charge followed on the heels of orders issued by a coroner's jury early in the evening, to detain Mrs. Elmer in connection with the death last summer of Shepard. Evidence introduced Saturday afternoon, indicated that Shepard's death was caused by the administration into the mouth, of considerable quantities of bichloride.

Mrs. Elmer, immediately after her arrest, was taken to Macon, Ga., where she will be lodged in the Bibb-co jail Saturday night.

CONSTANTINE REPORTED ON WAY TO ATHENS

LONDON—An unconfirmed report here Saturday said King Constantine of Greece left Venice Saturday for Athens.

King Constantine, who has lived at Lucerne since he was removed from the Greek throne by Great Britain and France, has declared his intention of returning to his country ever since Premier Venizelos was defeated in recent elections.

CRIME ON BOOZE IS PLANNED

Police Will Start War on Illegal Beverage Monday.

OPERATE UNDER CRABBE ACT

State Law in Effect—Is Stringent Measure.

If it contains more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol, it's illegal, and if Lima police find it the owner will be prosecuted.

That was the warning sounded Saturday night by Police Chief O. J. Roush following his announcement that the police department would launch a campaign Monday to enforce the Crabbe act to the letter.

"All beverages containing more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol are illegal," the chief said, "and beginning Monday beverages containing more than the law's allotment, will not be tolerated here."

If they are found in business places, the chief said, the owners will be arrested.

Following receipt of word from the secretary of state's office, that the new law was in effect, plans for new city legislation were discarded last week.

THE new house bill under which Lima police will operate, make arrests and cause prosecutions is as follows:

SECTION 1. This act shall be deemed to be an exercise of power granted in article XVI, section 3, of the Constitution of Ohio and the police power of the state and its provisions shall be liberally construed to carry out the provisions of this act.

SECTION 2. In the interpretation of this act (1) the word "liquor" or the phrase "intoxicating liquor" shall be construed to include alcohol, hot, brandy, whisky, rum, gin, beer, ale, porter, and wine, and in addition thereto any distilled, spirituous, malt, vinous, or fermented liquor, and also any liquid or compound whether or not same is medicated, proprietary, or patented, and by whatever name called, containing one-half of one per cent or more of alcohol by volume which is fit for use for beverage purposes. Provided, that the foregoing definition shall not extend to de-alcoholized wine, nor to any beverage or liquid produced by the process by which beer, ale, porter, or wine is produced, if it contains less than one-half of one per centum of alcohol by volume, and is made as prescribed in Section 37, Title II of the Act of Congress known as the "National Prohibition Act," passed October 28, 1919.

2. The term "liquor" shall mean and include all persons, firms, corporations, co-partnerships and associations, who manufacture, sell, barter, transport, import, export, deliver, furnish, receive, give away, prescribe, or otherwise dispose of any intoxicating liquor, except as authorized in this act. Liquor, and liquor preparations and compounds for non-beverage purposes, and wine for sacramental purposes may be manufactured, purchased, sold, bartered, transported, imported, exported, delivered, furnished, received, given away, prescribed, or otherwise disposed of, but only in accordance with the provisions of Title II of the act of Congress known as the "National Prohibition Act," passed October 28, 1919.

SECTION 4. It shall be unlawful to have or possess any liquor, or property designed for the manufacture of liquor, intended for use in violation of law or which has been so used, and no property rights shall exist in any such liquor or property. A search warrant may issue, and proceedings had thereunder, as provided in section 13432 to 13438 inclusive of the General Code so far as the same may apply, and such liquor, the containers thereof, and such property so seized shall be subject to such disposition as the court may make thereof. If it is found that such liquor or property was unlawfully sold or possessed, or had been so unlawfully used, the liquor, or property designed for the manufacture of liquor shall be destroyed unless the court shall order it to be disposed of as provided in public act 66 federal statutes. No search warrant shall issue to search any private dwelling occupied as such unless it is being used for the unlawful sale of intoxicating liquor, or unless it is in part used for some business purpose such as store, shop, saloon, restaurant, hotel or boarding house. The term "private dwelling" shall be construed to include the room or rooms used and occupied not transiently but solely as a residence in an apartment house, hotel, or boarding house. The property seized on any such warrant shall not be taken from the officer seizing the same on any writ of replevin or other like process.

SECTION 5. Any person who violates the provisions of this act for a first offense shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars; for a second offense he shall be fined not less than three hundred dollars nor more than two thousand dollars; for a third and each subsequent offense he shall be fined not less than five hundred dollars nor more than two thousand dollars and be imprisoned in the state penitentiary for not less than one year nor more than five years. The penalties provided in this act shall not apply to a person for manufacturing vinegar, or non-intoxicating older and fruit juices, or for use in his home, but each older and fruit juice shall not be sold or delivered after it has become intoxicating except upon a license granted by the United States government to manufacture and sell the same.

construed to prevent the sale of liquor, and said penalties shall not apply to any such sale.

SECTION 6. Any justice of the peace, mayor, municipal or police judge, probate or common pleas judge within the county with whom the affidavit is filed charging a violation of any of the provisions of this act, when the offense is alleged to have been committed in the county in which such mayor, justice of the peace, probate or common pleas judge shall have final jurisdiction to try such cases upon such affidavits without a jury, unless imprisonment is a part of the penalty, but error may be prosecuted to the judgment of such mayor, justice of the peace, or judge as herein provided. And in any such cases where imprisonment is not a part of the penalty, the defendant cannot waive examination nor can said mayor, justice of the peace, or judge recognize such defendant to the grand jury; nor shall it be necessary that any information be filed by the prosecuting attorney or any indictment be found by the grand jury.

SECTION 7. Money arising from fines and forfeited bonds shall be paid one-half into the state treasury credited to the general revenue fund, one-half to the treasury of the township, municipality or county where the prosecution is held, according as to whether the officer hearing the case is a township, municipal, or county officer.

SECTION 8. A petition in error shall not be filed in any court to reverse a conviction for violation of this act, or to reverse a judgment affirming such conviction, except after leave granted by the reviewing court. Such leave shall not be granted except for good cause shown at a hearing of which counsel for the complainant in the original case shall have had actual and reasonable notice. Such petition in error must be filed within thirty days after the judgment complained of, and the case shall be heard by such reviewing court within not more than thirty court days after filing such petition in error. When the reviewing court is not in session within the time provided for the motion for leave to file the petition in error and the petition in error may be filed with, and heard by, such reviewing court within ten days after it is in session.

BIG DECLINE IN NECESSITIES

Food, Drygoods, Wearing Apparel Much Cheaper Now.

CITY GOOD PLACE TO LIVE

Survey Made in Retail Stores—Other Towns Higher.

age decline in prices amounting to 35 per cent for the last year.

Wearing apparel for men, women and children shows an average drop of 30 per cent for the year.

The figures given in the accompanying table, gathered during the last few days, show clearly what has happened to household necessities in Lima. These figures are all compiled from Lima retail stores and are authentic. In some cases commodities may be slightly lower now than the figures show, some being on a rapid decline.

BARGAINS ARE PLentiful

Statistics, always considered a dry subject, should not prove so in this case. The figures given show that householders who will take the time they can secure bargains which will be worth their while.

Sugar is one of the items which has taken the biggest drop, the decline since last March being 53 per cent. Apples declined 60 per cent, potatoes, 67 per cent; cabbage 75 per cent; lard, 34 per cent; navy beans, 44 per cent; flour, 17 per cent; soap 33 per cent; lima beans, 40 per cent; cheese, 20 per cent; eggs, 20 per cent; rice, 37 per cent; coffee, 25 per cent; bread 6 per cent; butter, 18 per cent.

In dry goods and garments for the household, many big declines are found. Muslin has dropped 55 per cent; cambric, 50 per cent; percale, 44 per cent; silks, 43 per cent; children's hose, 35 per cent; women's hose, 25 per cent; blankets, 33 to 40 per cent; men's work clothes, 26 to 39 per cent; wool goods, 38 per cent, and many others showing big declines.

APPAREL ON TOFOGGAN

Wearing apparel, men's, women's and children's, has hit the skids in Lima stores, the reduction for the year being astounding. In very few items has the drop been less than 20 per cent and in many it has been twice that amount.

Figures taken from other cities show Lima to be ahead of those in the same class in the matter of price reduction, indicating that this is one of the best cities in Ohio in which to live today.

The data in the accompanying table were taken from the leading stores and secured from invoices and price tags, thus showing the actual conditions here.

LODGE NOTICES

All members of Lima Lodge No. 581 I. O. O. F. are requested to be present Tuesday evening. There will be work in initiatory.

The A. I. U. Lodge No. 549 Mayflower chapter enjoyed a penny social at the hall on Friday evening.

Miss Harriet Meehling defeated Mrs. Myrtle Borgas as the most popular women in the organization and C. S. Peltier was chosen as the most popular among the men. Dacig and games were enjoyed and later refreshments were served.

I. O. O. F.

Dr. M. S. Bowsler will give a very interesting talk at Solar Lodge Hall Sunday afternoon at 2 P. M. His subject will be "Man." All Oddfellows are invited to attend, and also bring a friend as this is an open meeting.

The Tribe of Ben Hur lodge entertained 300 members and their friends at a Thanksgiving banquet in their club rooms Wednesday evening.

R. G. Hungeate, state manager of the Tribe, delivered an address. Other members who aided to the evening's entertainment were Misses Nellie and Essie Wright, soloists; Mrs. Margaret Burke and Miss Pauline Bumgarther, duet; Maxine Marvin, recitation; Pauline Steward, reading and Helen Southward, recitation. An orchestra furnished music for the guests.

All members of Allen Council No. 347 are requested to meet at the corner of Main and Kibby-sts at 7 p. m. Sunday, to attend services at Olivet Presbyterian church.

COAL STILL HIGH

Price in Lima Ranges From $10 to $13 a Ton.

Lima coal dealers say they still are having difficulties in securing coal and that prices here remain at practically the same. A survey of yards Saturday shows that soft lump coal is selling between $12.50 and $13.00 per ton.

Frank Colucci of the Lima Wholesale Coal Co., said that coal is wholesaling at the mines at about $7.75 per ton, with run of mine being offered at from $8.25 to $6.00.

The City Coal Co. quoted lump at $13 Consumers Fuel and Supply Co. asked $12.50, and Frank Custer, of the Custer-May Co. said his firm was selling lump at from $11.50 to $12.50 per ton.

Run of mine coal is retailing at around $10 and $11 per ton.

FIRE CHIEF LOST LIFE TRYING TO SAVE OTHERS

CHICAGO—Living up to his principle that he would never assign a man to a task he would not do himself, cost the life of Chief Clyde Spencer of the East Chicago fire department Saturday.

Two firemen went into a small burning building and when they did not reappear soon, Spencer ordered the other men of the department back and went in after them. The two firemen went thru the house safely and came out on the other side. When the chief did not come out, firemen went into the building and found him overcome, lying on the floor, severely burned. He died a short time after.

as he worshipped the getting of gold more than the gold.

"Somehow, when I read of his death, I had a feeling which might have been unfair, but which was very strong, that this man had come to a just end; that fate or, as I believe, God, who rules our destinies, had a hand in the outcome of his life. He was relentless and played both the money and political game for no altruistic motives, but for the fun of watching the pigmies dance."

Miss Robertson was debating whether to attend the funeral of the national republican committeeman when interviewed. She said she felt she ought to go and yet she hesitated.

Miss Robertson recalled many incidents of political affairs in Oklahoma, in which Hamon figured and said that in each instance he had seemed to play the game as a chess player moves pawns across the board. Ethics, constructive legislation, progress, were less important to him than the playing of the game.

"Sometimes, as I grow older, and see how the world moves," she said, "I almost believe in fate and in retribution. The law of compensation seems to work out in mysterious ways."

"It appeared to be tragedy," she went on, "but it seems to have come from some higher power."

mayor said, it carried nothing but indefinite information. It was then the chief executive called the city solicitor into conference and they decided to go to Medina to conduct a personal investigation.

In the meantime, consumers had barely enough gas with which to do their cooking. Many depending on coal and oil stoves.

Saturday's rise in temperature aided the situation somewhat, it was stated.

Upon his departure Saturday afternoon Mayor Burkhardt said he would not return to the city until early Sunday morning.

CURTIN'S LETTER

The text of Curtin's letter to the mayor is as follows:

Hon. F. A. Burkhardt, Mayor, Lima, Ohio.

Dear Sir:—

On Friday morning I was in your office, with Mr. Malone, our Superintendent, who has charge of all our regulators and gate valves. I offered you a key to all of our regulator houses and insisted that you appoint some one to have charge of this matter so that at any time there might be a gas shortage, upon your instructions they could go to these regulators and see if same were not all open at all times. You promised to do this, and I wish you would proceed to do so at once, as we have had a shortage of gas for two or three days now and I want you and all the people of Lima to know that we are delivering every foot of gas that we are receiving from the Medina Gas & Fuel Company.

This will confirm my verbal statements to you of yesterday morning. Yours very truly, EMMETT R. CURTIN.

AUTO BANDIT SENTENCED TO 20 YEARS IN PRISON

PITTSBURGH—Howard Taylor, Cleveland, self-confessed auto bandit, was sentenced to serve a maximum term of 20 years in Western penitentiary by Judge Stone in criminal court here Saturday.

Taylor pleaded guilty to two charges of robbery. E. V. Wise, taxicab driver, testified Taylor compelled him to give over his automobile, at the point of a gun. Max Golden, another taxi driver, testified that he was robbed of his automobile in a similar manner by Taylor.

MOTHER OF THIRTEEN CHILDREN PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Anna Fatta, 27, wife of Daniel Fatta, No. 2 Courtney Terrace, died at the Tuberculosis hospital, Saturday afternoon. She is the mother of 13 children all living. The husband survives as well as her parents. The body is at the Schuller and Frank mortuary. N. Main—funeral arrangements have not been completed.

BRITAIN MAY BAR LIFE PERILED AS STORM RACES

U. S. BOARD Expected to Refuse to Ait Com-mission to Ireland.

WASHINGTON—The British government may refuse to allow the committee of the American commission investigating Ireland, to go to Ireland, according to an opinion expressed Saturday night in official British circles.

The impression was given at the state department at the same time, however, that passports to the British Isles would be granted to at least some of the five members of the commission, but as individuals and not as members of the Irish commission.

The British embassy is now considering the proposed trip of the American commission to Ireland, it was announced Saturday night. The commission has sent a letter to Ambassador Geddes, stating its intentions and asking that the trip be facilitated by the British government. It is assumed that instructions will be received by the embassy from the London government.

One British diplomat pointed out that the only position England has taken was to give assurance that every facility would be granted to persons wishing to come from Ireland to the United States to testify before the commission here. The question of the commission going to Ireland may be viewed in an entirely different light, however.

RELIEF IN TAXES IS PROMISED

City and County Will Benefit Thru Reappraisal.

Lima and Allen-co will benefit to the extent of thousands of dollars in taxes not now realized by the city and county, as a result of the reappraisal of property in all taxing districts, ordered by the Ohio Taxing commission.

Orders were received by County Auditor Charles R. Phillips Saturday. That body will name the number of deputies and clerks allowed in the work of reappraisal and the salary to be paid each.

County Auditor Phillips will name the appraisers. They will be men of good judgment, he says, acquainted with land and property values and fair to both land-holder and the state. Work of getting ready the reappraisal will be started Monday, Phillips announces. There has not been an reappraisal in Allen-co since 1910, except for partial lands in certain districts in 1914, Phillips says.

NOT 'MISCONDUCT' TO PUT ARM AROUND GIRL, EDUCATION BOARD RULES

DENVER, Colo.—Placing one's arm around a girl doesn't necessarily constitute "misconduct," according to a ruling here Saturday by the state board of education.

The board made this ruling in the case of Frank M. Draper, 28, former high school teacher at Wray, Colo. Draper was charged with having flirted with his pupils and of having put his arm around several of them.

The board Saturday exonerated Draper and offered him his job back. But Draper, who has been employed as a motorman on a street car since he lost his old position, refused the offer, declaring he preferred to be a motorman.

MERCY PLEA SAVED NEGRO FROM MOB

SEYMOUR, Ind.—Several armed and masked men stormed the county jail here Saturday and after overpowering the guards, took Harry Bentley, 30, negro, charged with assaulting a white woman and with peeping in windows. Bentley was bound hand and foot, thrown into a car and driven to the edge of the city, where his captors cut his bonds and prepared to hang him.

A rope was thrown over a tree and a noose placed around Bentley's neck. Several men tugged at the rope and as Bentley was drawn from the ground into the air, he broke into a plea for mercy. He was let down to the ground and taken up the road further, where he was released after promising to return to jail.

DRIVER IS FINED

Walter Taylor, 421 N. Shawnee-st, was fined $10 when arraigned before Judge Jackson in criminal court, late Saturday charged with speeding.

It was alleged he was driving a delivery truck 25 miles per hour down S. Main-st when arrested by Officer Frank Kinzer.

Ships Helpless In Gale Off Coast of Washington.

PORTLAND, Ore.—Fate of 18 persons aboard the steel barge W. J. Pirrie, reported driven ashore on James Island, off Quillayate, Wash., Friday night, was still undetermined here Saturday night.

Communication between James Island and the coast was severed by the storm. The 18 included the

SANTA CLAUS MAKES LIMA HEADQUARTERS AT THE LEADER!

HI! HO!
Boys and Girls!

Of Lima and Vicinity

See My Great Display of New Toys

At The Leader Store

NORTH POLE DISPATCH:

I am sending you this letter
With love and kisses galore,
Down to the Leader Store
There are toys of all description
And books and dolls and games
And dishes and toys and little chairs
And others I would not name.
So you just come down and see them
For I'll soon be there with more,
And we shall have a glorious time
Down to the Leader Store.

SANTA CLAUS

Mothers!
Fathers!
Bring Your Children!

NOVEL TOYS
ARE NOW ON DISPLAY

The most novel display of toys that have ever been shown will greet the boys, girls and parents of Lima and vicinity at the Leader Store Toyland which opens tomorrow, Monday. Not only is the showing unique on account of the variety but there are many that have been invented and on display for the first time this season. New games, mechanical toys of all kinds and educational contraptions that are original and interesting. For instance a very unique doll actually says Papa and Mamma by simply laying the doll on its back. It has sleeping eyes and indestructible. A Humpty Dumpty circus is another big feature of this display—consisting of trainers, animals, and other paraphernalia of circus life. We could mention many others that will prove very interesting and we want you to see them in reality. In fact we believe our Toyland to be the biggest ever shown in this city.

NO SCARCITY OF DOLLS
THIS YEAR

An irresistible and pretty selection of dolls are to appear at the Leader Store during the yuletide season. They are all charming and any little girl's heart will leap for joy at the sight of them. They are no "dolls" in toyland except two. "Don't get tired and don't go home until you have seen everything. Every kind of a doll that a little girl could wish for—hundreds of them—all sizes, dressed and undressed—beautifully clad with dresses, shoes, stockings, hair and everything. Some have movable bodies and very moderately priced. Be sure and see dollyland at the Leader Store.

OH! CHILDREN!
SEE THE NEW GAMES

Santa Claus left games galore for the little folks and grown-ups—a wonderful variety to choose from—is here for your selection—games that are educational and amusing will be found in our display—a few of these are:
Uncle Wiggley Game
Roly Poly Game
60 Soldiers on Parade
Giant Soldier Game
Cover 'Em Up
United States Puzzle Game
Dissected Map of the United States
Game of Taps
Game of Nations
Little Soldiers
Authors
Lotto
Old Maids
Book
Tiddley Winks
Ring Toss
Pretty Village
Base Ball Game
Soaps
Dr. Busby
Feier Coddle's Trip
And thousands of other games are here. Children bring your parents to the biggest display of Games in the city. Be sure and come early for best selections.

INSTALL A PHONE IN YOUR HOME

A very clever little toy is the telephone which is complete in every detail, both receiver and mouthpiece. In order to have the most fun you must buy two of them. One party stands on one side of the room and the other in another part—by the way you can carry on a fine conversation. They are very moderately priced in the Toyland of the Leader Store.

WAGONS, SLEDS AND EVERYTHING

A vote taken among the children of several schools show that they prefer to have Santa get their toys at the Leader Store. A big display of wagons and sleds—when the snow is here you will want a sled and for next spring a wagon—have Santa bring both for you. He will—tell your father and mother. Very moderately priced.

OH MR. BROWN
AIN'T THESE FUNNY TOYS!

Mr. Brown, manager of the Basement Department, will assist you with a capable corp of sales persons in making your selections. The children will dance with glee at the many funny toys that will be shown for the first time this year. Its certainly is a treat to hear the kiddies sigh and laugh in the Leader Store Toyland. Bring them here.

CLANG! CLANG!
THERE GOES
A FIRE DEPT.

Wee! How your heart throbs when you see the fire engine go whizzing down the street to the scene of the fire. See the people hurrying to the burning building—it's great! Just like the real fire Dept. is now on display in our Toyland Hook and Ladder, Fire Engine, Chief Wagon, made of best cast iron painted in various colors with drivers and everything complete. Your choice of various sizes. The children can have loads of fun with this practical toy. They are priced according to size.

VELOCIPEDES
A USEFUL
GIFT FOR BOYS

"Say Jimmie! my mother is going to have Santa bring me a Tricycle that is now on display at the Leader Store for Christmas. Believe me, I'm going to have some fun too." That's what the fellows will tell their friends when they get one. Strongly made and reinforced throat with rubber tired wheels strong handles and in fact a gift that will last for many months. Don't forget to get your boy one of these gifts. He'll certainly appreciate your kindness.

OPENS TOYLAND WHEN STORE WAS CLOSED LAST EVENING
AND IMMEDIATELY RETURNS TO THE NORTH POLE

RIGHT NOW will find the Leader Store ready for Christmas. No less a person than Santa Claus will have opened it. Santa waited a few more days later than his scheduled time owing to the Leader Store fire and when the time was ready made a flying trip to the Leader Store and again returned to his Toy Factory at the North Pole.

He said before he left: "I consider the Leader Store's Toyland my headquarters and it has my indorsement in every way."

Boys and Girls be sure and see our Toyland in the Basement because it is filled with everything that will make tots merry for Christmas, the greatest annual event in the life of children. There are dolls of every description, mechanical toys, musical instruments, tiny trunks, toy beds, washing outfits and many others too numerous to mention. Just bring the kiddies here and permit them to stroll around to see the things both amusing and educational. Imported and domestic devices especially conceived for their pleasure. Its like a wonderful down here—on one counter are animals that almost live and breathe—automobiles that make ready in a jiffy. On the other side soldiers rigged up for war with machine guns, trench mortars, tanks and everything—the kind that we used to lick Germany. On another counter is trains on tracks—automatic toys and goodness knows what else besides. We wish the little folks could fill the place to overflowing tomorrow, Monday, on the opening day.

FRANK BANTA CAN "JAZZ" MUSIC TOO!

If Frank Banta the great Jazz Piano King who makes records for the Victor was at the Leader Store he would demonstrate in a minute that our pianos are ALMOST AS GOOD as the big ones that is as far as the boys and girls are concerned. They come in baby and upright styles. They are substantially made and you can play many selections. A book of instructions go with each one so that you will be able to play in a very short time. Parents—now is the time to start your children on a musical career. Very moderately priced.

TAKE A RIDE
IN A REAL
AEROPLANE

Come on boys and girls take a ride in a real Aeroplane—just like the ones you have seen in the Movies and flying in Lima many times. It has propellers, wings, steering wheels and everything. The big feature of this machine requires you to remain on the street or sidewalk so you can get out and crank it whenever you please. You will surely enjoy a spin and its wonderful exercise. Santa only left a few of them so we advise you to bring papa or mamma early to see them.

FAIRYLAND!

When Toyland opens tomorrow at the Leader Store we want to see as many children as possible with their Ohs and Ahs! hurry and hurry thru our big display. Every kind of toy games and books possible have been brought to this fairyland and grouped for easy selection. The Leader Store has the reputation of displaying the biggest selection of toys in the city and every year we enjoy a liberal patronage. We ask you to kindly come as early as possible and make your selection so that you will avoid the usual last minute rush that comes every year. Just to remind you that there are several more weeks to do your Christmas shopping and we advise you to choose your presents as soon as possible and have them laid aside for future delivery. Join the big Christmas crowds at the Leader Store Toyland.

A RAILROAD
OWN HOME

"Ah aboard for Denver, Chicago, New York and San Francisco!" The children will shout with glee when they arise on Christmas morning and find that Santa has left them an electric train—with real tracks, engines, coaches, etc. Also a complete line of trains with tracks, etc.—They're self winding, however. You can enjoy these interesting toys immensely. Visit the biggest Toyland in Northwestern Ohio.

STOVES THAT WILL MAKE
KIDDIES SMILE

Can you imagine how little kiddies will smile when they receive a toy stove? They are made of best cast iron and patterned after the real ones. Kitchen style with oven compartment. The following items go with each one: Lad lifter, bucket, skillet and kettle and are made of best cast iron. A toy that will please every girl. See them in the Leader Store Toyland.

ROCKERS FOR CHILDREN ARE HERE, PARENTS

Of course Santa always brings with him things that are practical and he brought a wonderful display of rockers—made of best materials in golden and fumed oak—a gift that will please every little girl. Bring your children to the Leader Store fairyland to see the many toys, books and games.

"JERRY'S ON THE JOB" IN OUR OFFICE

The children can make use of this office furniture for their school lessons. Built like the real office desk in roll top and flat style with compartments and with two and three drawers—can be locked. Swivel chair to complete the outfit. There are many styles to choose from. The gift is useful and practical in every home. Comes in fumed and golden oak and very moderately priced.

BABY CABS
TO TAKE OUR DOLLY

The Dolls of the Leader want a home and when they get into the many cozy firesides of Lima on Christmas morning they also want a nice buggy. A complete line of reed and leather baby carriages in various styles—rubber tired and plain wheels and very strongly made. A cab that dolly will be proud to have, and one that your little sweetheart will be proud to show to her many friends. What is a home without a little girl dolly and baby carriage. They are very moderately priced at the Leader Store.

OUR PRETTY
DEPARTMENT

The children will be delighted with our display of furniture—just like the real for sure kind. A well selected line when you visit our wonderland. Ivory buffets, dressers, chiffoniers, etc. Some have two spacious drawers, others with three, beveled mirror and daintily decorated with hand painted flower effects. Then the kitchen cabinets will lessen your children's burden in the kitchen—just like mother's. Fitted with Uneda biscuits, Sapolia, etc., finely constructed—don't fail to see this exhibit—better still have Santa Claus bring you one, Children!

EDUCATIONAL

The Erector, a marvelous builder that can be used to construct houses, wagons, bridges, aeroplanes, autos, etc.—in fact everything that you can think of. A very educational toy for every boy—a toy of this kind will give him the right start in life—he thinks! Every real American boy likes to build things. He wants to do things he sees real men do. That's the way he grows into useful manhood. Real boys want real toys, not knock knacks and these toys are genuine. An illustrated booklet showing how to build goes with each and every outfit. Come in and see them—they come in various sets and moderately priced.

G. O. P. Factions Can't Coax Bind Back to Home Cote.

PAP PEDDLING COMES NEXT

Political Gossip of Past Week, Local and Otherwise.

(BY J. W. FISHER.)
Rolled and murky political waters in Allen-co continue in spite of heroic efforts on the part of the warlike elements within the Republican ranks to prevent the troubles reaching the pistons and coffee stage.
Moving with padded feet and braided tongues, the principals in the big ruction speak only under their breath and employ the sign language when there is a reason to believe that anyone outside the "circle" may overhear sufficient to give them a line on what is going on under an apparently placid and peaceful surface. Camouflage is the proper word in this connection. Making believe that all is lovely, the parties who declared an armistice before the election, for the sake of "party expediency", are becoming more rabid in their party scrap, always under cover of dead walls and tightly closed doors.

It sure must be gall and wormwood to Colonel Albert Edward Gale to contemplate the "holding" of the committee endorsement of Glen Wallace for Commissioner clerk, after it was so skillfully piloted over the rough places by the Colonel. The strings on County Commissioner Andy Gray, held by the committee, have been none too secure as Andy "viewed with alarm" the things the future portended, while Commissioner Walter Gray, breaking away from the committee, vowed by gum and by heck that he wouldn't be dictated to by the Gale-Quail-Downing controlled committee and that he'd be disgusted if he didn't land his relative, Herbert Keifer, on the job that Bernie Halfon has been looking after very capably and acceptably.

Divided as they are, right off the bat, to put thru any sort of plan affecting appointive places, Gray and Craig can do nothing without the aid of Jim Mackenzie. Jim's only concern in the "veteran triangle" in the political game is good roads. He doesn't care who gets the jobs, just so Allen-co gets the roads.

When the Republican county committee finally disposes of the herculean task (just as tho it could be done) of satisfying everybody in the little matter of recommendations for appointments of postmasters in the county, then indeed will have come the millennium.

High costs and low salaries isn't at all a deterrent in the little matter of party patriots seeking political preferment, hence it is reasonable to believe that the woods will be choked with candidates for postoffices and other places of more or less importance and emolument.
Gale gets away with the Lima postoffice plum, it won't be without a struggle, and you can lay to that. Other G. O. P. "regulars" feel they are just as much entitled to the post of being official stamp lickers as does the Colonel when he contemplates himself showing Postmaster J. E. Sullivan the door some time after March 4 next.

The "next best" postoffice plum in Allen-co grows on a tree in Main-st in Delphos, between First and Second-sts, where Alex Shenk, Jr., an appointee of the present administration, has been affixing the coveted "P. M." after his signature. There may be a score of fellows, and maybe more, after the Delphos job, but two of them have chased out into the open thus early in the game. Back in the days of the McKinley and the Roosevelt administrations, W. A. Coble was the stamp canceller at Delphos and Ed Truesdale was his assistant.

Wilson's election upset the pie for the Republicans and when a successor was named, it was none other than Alex Shenk Jr., a son-in-law of Judge John F. Lindemann, admittedly one of the best political strategists in Allen-co. Truesdale would like mighty well to get his "feet under the task in the private office of the P. M. in Delphos, and he hailed as postmaster instead of assistant postmaster.

Camping on Ed's trail is John H. Jenkins, former mayor of Delphos, who has also erected a lightning rod in hope of attracting political lightning in the form of a postmaster's commission. The best hope at "the present writing" is that Truesdale's picture will be the next to be hung in the "postmaster hall of fame" in Delphos. The wise boys have it thus framed, (not the picture) but Jenkins is just sawing wood and saying nothing. Who knows, perhaps he may have a surprise tucked away in his sleeve?

The source of information doesn't indicate whether 'twas an incident or an accident, but it was something that stirred up the angry waves of passion and hatred in local G. O. P. circles about the time the crowd banquet was held at Columbus Grove. In reality, it wasn't a crowd banquet, but more in the form of a Republican justification over the sweeping victory that wasn't due to love on the part of the electorate for the G. O. P. platform or the party candidates, but more as the means to the end adopted by various groups to administer a rebuke to the Democratic party for fencible wrongs imposed.

Some of 'em hated Wilson, others didn't like Cox, still others were afraid of the straw man set up liquor question was only sleeping instead of being dead and were afraid Cox might wake it up. Then there was the section that wanted "a change," and from appearances now, they're going to get a change that is quite different from what they anticipated when they deserted the party of progress and placed control of all branches of the government in Republican hands. Whatever the results may be, there'll be no question as to where the blame shall be placed.

But all this is getting away from the story. The few Democrats who were present at the crowd banquet—and the election rather decimated the party ranks, temporarily at least—were not at all happy. Not very many could be inveigled into the limelight to be made the butt of the jeers and fives of the victorious opposition, consequently it was practically nothing more nor less than a Republican "love feast," and a paving program for pap peddling.

The local ruckus wasn't improved a wee bit by the methods employed in choosing G. O. P. adherents from Allen-co for attendance at the big feed in Putnam-co, where the hymn of hate against the Wilson administration was still sung, albeit some of the voices in the choir were somewhat cracked and wheezy from over-exercise in after-the-election exultation. Whoever it was had charge of the "pickings" of the favored ones to attend from Allen-co mused it up right sadly. Any number of the boys who "fit and feat" for the G. O. P. weal were given the marble heart and the icy mitr, much as they wanted to be there to hear the Demos roared. They weren't there, and they're mighty sore thereat. The incident is still being cussed and discussed.

For the purpose of permitting the dust to settle—in other words, until the "deer people" have an opportunity to calmly contemplate the magnitude of the avastness they precipitated on November 2—the G. O. P. boys, in state and nation, are lying little along the line of jaw work. They're backed off in little knots, each particular cohort having his little program all set and content to let the other fellow show his hand. President-elect Harding left off tarpon fishing and biked away from Point Isabel when a "norther" raved him a case of chatters. Stopping at New Orleans only a sufficient length of time to deliver a set speech on "the wonderful progress the United States has made in the past 50 years" and in a roundabout way expressing the hope and wish that the Gods will be good and that retribution will not perch on his bedpost in the form of a political nightmare, our fellow Ohioan with a $75,000 a year job assured for four years from March 4 next, climbed into a tub and braved the waves of the briny deep for a trip to the Panama canal zone, far from the madding crowd and secure for the nonce from the horde of "appointment hounds."

But then there's the home-coming. When Warren G. gets back to the drab and drary frontporch at Marion, where were once party patriots with blaring brass bands whooping'er up for the Senator, there'll be a solid phalanx of place seekers, waiting for a chance to get the ear of the President-to-be. Then, and then only, will W. G. H. realize aptly that being elected President of the United States, with its hordes of hungry job hunters is not unlike trying to be a soothsayer in a madhouse. Poor Warren, the full fruition of your triumph may be altogether different than you anticipated.

Governor-elect Harry Davis escaped the job hunters in the Buckeye state by doing a little hunting himself, among the duck denizens in and about the marshes of Lake Erie. But the time is ripe for many to purchase tickets from Lima to Columbus, or Cleveland, wherever the aforesaid Harry may happen to be. For as sure as fate itself, he'll soon be singing that old, familiar refrain: "They're after me, they're after me." And ere Governor Harry is introduced to the individuals comprising the guardian squad appointed by a far-seeing and benevolent G. O. P. electorate in state affairs, to keep him in bounds and see that he doesn't run the state like he conducted affairs a snayor of Cleveland, Harry will be in a frame of mind where murder will be a pleasure.

Patronage coming to Allen-co via the "underground railway" from the office of Governor-to-be Harry L. Davis is not expected to be of a kind or character altogether to be desired and in quantity very limited, since it is probably quite joyfully remembered by Harry L. that he got in Allen-co what he got in Cuyahoga-co—a lambasting.

But the reason for his failure to carry Allen-co was not the same that produced the situation in his home territory. In Cuyahoga they knew Harry and bumped him accordingly. In Allen they didn't know him, but they knew him by reputation. The people did know Vic Donahay and they liked him. However, it is quite likely that Allen-co would have given Harry L. a slight majority in the general Republican slump had it not been that factions were developed here when Davis and Colonel Cole were the "likely looking" candidates for nomination. Feeling then ran so deep that Davis had a bad taste in his mouth every time he thought about Allen-co, and since the election the dark brown taste is more pronounced than ever.

Thereby and thereafter, the preferences expected to be parceled out in Allen-co will likely be mighty "skinny." From what they tell of Harry L. he isn't of the kind who forgives or forgets. Harry's fingers are itching to get hold of his commission as Governor and when he does he'll proceed to do the human and politic thing—reward his friends and punish his enemies. He has already made a survey of the state house, interior and exterior, upstairs and downstairs, locating by the blue print method all of the available cubby holes and other out of the way places, wherein he may hide himself on a moment's notice should any one or more of that guardianship corps or steering committee send in cards.

It is not likely that a man who had Cleveland "organized" as Davis is said to have had it, will submit meekly and mildly to being bossed by a gang of political expediency caretakers. And if any applications from Allen-co for appointment to positions of any kind find their way to the desk of Governor Harry, he'll likely take a fleedish delight in inviting the applicant to move to a place somewhat hotter than an exposed corner in midwinter—unless it should be from a known friend and backer, and they were few and far between in Allen-co after the Republican county executive committee was organized. Harry's friends were nailed to the cross on a certain hot night in the Holmes block and they haven't forgiven or forgotten.

Jap Cochran of Spencerville is going back to the legislature at Columbus as "representative" from Allen-co, having won his right to take another fling at the legislative thing as a result of the trend of the voting on November 2. Cochran didn't do a whole lot during his first term that would draw fire against him in an election for a second term and neither did he set the world afire in accomplishment. He just slid in along with the others in the slump that favored the G. O. P. But that doesn't mean that Jap wasn't on the job. He was.

Cochran probably won't have a great deal to say about the organization of the general assembly. About all he'll be expected to do is to vote with the "organization." Jap probably won't be able to pick off anything greatly worth while for Allen-co, but neither does that mean he won't try.

When it comes down to the last analysis in designating the particular individuals in the fourth congressional district who are and are not to be "struck" by appointive lightning, it's quite likely that Colonel J. W. Halfhill of this city, and Wilson Wood III, of Piqua will direct the distribution of the federal plums. Colonel James and Wilson Wood were the delegates from the fourth district to the Chicago convention and voted for Harding when he needed votes. It isn't likely that Harding will forget it, either.

There's Rud K. Hynicka of Cincinnati, whose star has waned since that little escapade of his in the Chicago convention, when he tried to break up the Ohio delegation to go against Harding and in favor of Wood. Harding isn't going to forget that, either. If you are a betting man, the best advice that can be offered now is to wage your money that Colonel Halfhill will be tendered an appointment by Harding. And in addition to that, if you're going to have a lot to say about your fellows getting belated Christmas presents.

Just who it is that Governor Davis will "deal" with in Allen-co, if at all, isn't right now apparent, since his "local manager" in the primary campaign is no longer located on Lima soil. Certain local patriots who expected to horn in for state appointments have changed their minds since the election of Davis. The reason? They expected Cole to be nominated and helped organize the county committee as a "Cole" committee. Consequently, after Davis was nominated, it became a "cold" committee.

TREES RESTORED IN FRANCE

Highways Again Will be Outlined With Shrubbery

PARIS — Along with the other agencies of the restoration of the war-torn areas of France is the work of reforestation that is going on under the Ministry of Agriculture, in these areas where the American Red Cross is still carrying on its work of relief thru local committees of French workers, the Government is not only giving its attention to the destroyed forests, but also to restoring to the country the picturesque topography which was lent to it by the miles and miles of systematically placed trees which lined the roadsides. In the stress of war these old trees were felled either to hamper the march of armies by obstructing the roads, to provide fuel or to go into the supports of trench and dugout. Young straight trees are replacing them which in time will give to these roads their proverbial beauty.

Along with this work the enactment of more stringent laws are being urged for the better protection of the forests which remain untouched by war. Aside from the destruction incident to war the forests have been heavily drained for timber which has been going into the building of homes in the devastated regions, while cities, unable to build during the years of the war, are making heavy demands for building lumber. The present price of lumber and even wood for fuel is high. To relieve this somewhat and to lessen the demand made upon existing French forests, advocates of forest protection are asking that the present tariff on the import of lumber be removed or greatly decreased. Such action, it is believed, would furnish ready timber for rebuilding and protect native forests.

RADIUM FOUND BY SIMPLE DEVICE

Tube of Precious Substance Lost in Hospital Traced

ALANTA, Ga. — Three thousand dollars' worth of radium was lost at Grady Hospital recently and was found several hours later because Dr. J. J. Martin knew a simple little instrument he borrowed from the Georgia Tech physics laboratory had the power of detecting radium. The difficulty of finding the valuable substance without the assistance of this instrument can be understood when the fact that only fifty milligrams were lost and that a brass cylinder less than three inches long contained the entire $3,000 worth.

It was discovered in a dark cellar in a bundle of used bandages which had been removed from the "mad" and were to be destroyed.

When Dr. Martin arrived at the negro female ward he found the nurses panic-stricken because of the loss of the tube of radium which had been used in treating one of the patients. Dr. Martin immediately sent to Tech to borrow an electroscope.

SIMPLE INSTRUMENT
This instrument is simply two pieces of gold leaf fastened together at one end and enclosed in an insulated glass tube. Because the charges of electricity repel each other the instrument has the power of detecting electrical charges. If both of the pieces of gold leaf have the same electrical charge they repel each other and fly apart.

Radium is continually shooting off minute particles. This has the effect of making the air in the neighborhood of the piece of radium a good conductor of electricity and if any electrically charged bodies are near the radium the air conducts the charge and it will register on a delicate instrument like the electroscope.

ON THE "SCENT"

Dr. Martin went over the entire ward with the electroscope but found no trace of the radium. Then he examined the bed linen, toilets, laundry and the used bandages but without result. He went over the field again and in the darkened room where the bandages were thrown the electroscope picked up the charge and the gold leaves flew apart.

The electrical properties of radium make it easy for the electroscope to detect it as the lost articles were. Limburger cheese that could be discovered because the nose detected the odor.

The electroscope "smelled" the radium in the darkened room, but could not locate it definitely. Dr. Martin said he was able to tell that he was within eight feet of the lost tube but the instrument lost the "scent" several times. Finally after the search had continued for more than three hours the tube was recovered from the center of one of the bundles of soiled linen that were to be destroyed.

2,000 BABIES IN POLAND SAVED

Report Shows Accomplishment of American Red Cross

WARSAW — Two thousand starved babies, besides 10,000 hospital patients, 5,000 orphans, 2,000 aged and 300 war invalids were given American relief in Kiev during the Polish occupation of that city last Summer says an official report just made public at American Red Cross headquarters here. The recent military crisis delayed publication of the report.

According to the American Red Cross statement 41 hospitals, 30 orphanages, 19 homes for the aged and 10 child feeding stations were cared for during the one month which the Red Cross carried on its work in the Ukrainian city.

That Kiev is one of the most cosmopolitan towns in Europe is shown by the American Red Cross report, which reveals aid given to institutions of every nationality, reflecting the city's long checkered history of Polish, Ukrainian and Russian regimes during the past 500 years. That it is likewise both a strong Red Cross town and a vigorous Jewish Community was shown in the discovery that 20 of the city's 41 hospitals were Red Cross institutions, 10 Ukrainian, 5 Russian and 5 Polish, while 12 of its 30 orphanages were Jewish.

Hospitals would appear to be the special welfare interest of the Poles of Kiev, 13 of the total of 41 being conducted by them. The Ukrainian came next with 10. There were 14 Ukrainian orphanages and four Polish.

Don't Neglect That Cough or Cold

A Home Remedy That Can Be Depended Upon

No one can afford to neglect a cough or cold. Neglect often causes serious results. The best time to doctor is when the first indications of a cough or cold appear. Coughing weakens the delicate membrane of the throat, bronchial tubes and lungs. This makes a fertile field for the development of germs. The cold, grip or tonsillitis germs should be killed before they have time to get imbedded into this delicate membrane. Get three ounces of Glando Pine. Mix this with enough syrup or honey to make a pint and you have a safe, sure and reliable remedy to use. It takes hold of a cough in a hurry. The first dose opens the air cells and makes you breathe deep and easy. Glando Pine is easily prepared. Directions accompany each bottle. It tastes well and can be given to young children.

Don't be careless, but begin today to safeguard yourself against coughs and colds. A dependable remedy at hand means a great deal to any family. Remember the name, Glando Pine. You can get it at your drug-gist, or it will be sent you by the Glando-Aid Co., Fort Wayne, Ind.—Adv.

ARE YOU DRIVING YOUR BODY TOO HARD?

Are long hours of work, worry and nervous strain sapping the iron from your blood and leaving you tired, weak, nervous and run down?

Power of organic iron in spinach and carrots to help make rich red blood and revitalize worn-out exhausted nerves.

There can be no rich red blood without iron. Nature put plenty of iron in the husks of grains and the skins and peels of vegetables and fruits to enrich your blood, but modern methods of cooking throw all these things away—leave the alarming increase in recent years in Anemia—iron starvation of the blood with all its attendant ills.

When you get up feeling tired in the morning, when you find yourself nervous, irritable and easily upset, when you can no longer do your day's work without being all fagged out at night, when your digestion all goes wrong, or you have pains across the back and your face looks pale and drawn, do not wait until you go all to pieces and collapse in a state of nervous prostration, or until in your weakened condition you contract some serious disease, but consult your family physician and have him take a specimen of your blood and make a "blood count" of your red blood corpuscles, or test the iron-power of your blood yourself by adding plenty of spinach, carrots, or other iron-containing vegetables to your daily food and take organic iron with them for a while and see how much your condition improves.

Thousands of people have surprisingly increased their strength, energy and endurance in two weeks time by this simple experiment. But in making this test be sure that the iron you take is organic iron and not metallic or mineral iron which people usually take. Organic iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron filings. Organic iron may be had from your druggist under the name of Nuxated Iron. Nuxated Iron represents organic iron in such a highly concentrated form that one dose is estimated to be approximately equivalent in organic iron content to eating half a quart of spinach or one quart of green vegetables. It is like taking extract of meat instead of eating pounds of beef.

If you are not feeling quite up to the mark telephone for a package of Nuxated Iron today. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturer if you do not obtain instantly satisfactory results.

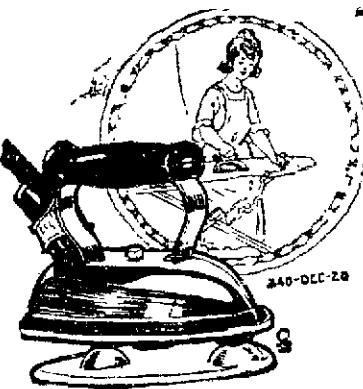

For sale by all druggists. —Adv.

Your Xmas Dollars Will Go Fartherest at "Gregg's!"

This store is in readiness for Christmas Shoppers—Gayly attired with Holiday Stocks of huge proportions. Great care has been given to the selection of Holiday Goods at the Gregg Store—each department vying with the other to present the most attractive and formidable display of gifts ever offered in this city—And it is none too early to prepare for this great Holiday—the one day when all the civilized world, prompted by the spirit of the Three Wise Kings of over 1900 years ago, turn their minds and hearts to the thought of GIVING.

"Buy Useful Gifts"—Buy Such Things That the Recipient Would Have to Buy Themselves

This is no time for wasteful spending—care should be exercised in the selection of gifts—only such gifts that are of use to the recipient should be chosen—and then too, it is well to remember that all gifts offered at the Gregg Store are priced on the new lowered market basis—something else to make this Christmas still more joyful.

STARS OF CINEMA WORLD COMING

Top Notch Artists Feature Lima Programs This Week.

NEW ALAN DWAN CREATION

Rex Beach Picture at Regent
Latter End of Week.

(By ESTHER WAGNER)

THE week's theatre calendar, as you will notice, contains some splendid cinema attractions, with such stars as Katherine MacDonald, Vivian Martin, May Allison, William Farnum, Corinne Griffith and many others in the star roles.

A new Alan Dwan production, "The Forbidden Thing" is one of the features of the week. This special attraction is coming to the Sigma theatre the last four days of the week and is heralded as one of the season's best releases. The cast includes James Kirkwood and Helen Jerome Eddy.

A Rex Beach picture, "The North Wind's Malice," is scheduled to appear at the Regent the last of the week and from all reports, it is a mighty fine picture. Joe King and Tom Santchi head the cast.

Katherine MacDonald, the American Beauty, is being exhibited today at the Regent in "Curtain!" a drama of stage-life and stage-talk. The story ran in the Saturday Evening Post and is no doubt, familiar to many. Miss MacDonald has the role of Nancy Bradshaw, one of the most delightful she has ever had. This picture will be shown for three days.

May Allison's "The Cheater," has finally reached this city, and will be shown at the Sigma today, Monday and Tuesday. "The Cheater" is a story with the same general theme as "The Miracle Man," only in this case it is a woman who cures, and Metro has made of the story a most entrancing program feature. Miss Allison is supported by a competent cast, including King Baggot.

The Lyric's program is quite complete, beginning with the William Fox super-production "If I Were King," with William Farnum, to be shown for three days, starting today. The week-end will see beautiful Corinne Griffith in "The Whisper Market." Miss Griffith is one of the most charming young ladies in screen today and her work is rapidly bringing many ardent admirers. "The Broadway Bubble" which was shown here recently, created much comment, and in this new picture she is doubly interesting.

A delightful, ravishing picture of stage life is the photoplay "Curtain," which opens at the Regent today and which gives Miss Katherine MacDonald one of the best roles she has ever attempted.

The story is familiar to readers of the Saturday Evening Post in which publication Rita Weisman's "Curtain!" appeared some time ago. Miss MacDonald is cast as Nancy Bradshaw, who forsakes the stage and a brilliant future to marry a millionaire, and does some of the best work of her interesting career. The picture discloses intimate knowledge of the stage, and it is technically correct in every detail, as the story is from a real showman's point of view.

Supporting Miss MacDonald are W. B. Tilton, Earl Whitlock, Charles Richman and Florence Deshon.

"MISS HOBBS"

Three women who, to become ultra-modern, decide to escape the "shackles" of love and marriage, and three men with honest loving hearts, who think the women have gone crazy, furnish the feature "Miss Hobbs" with some splendid comedy. Miss Hobbs (played by Wanda Hawley) dressed in foolish looking clothes which she termed futuristic, hates men and pities all the poor women who have the misfortune to fall in love with them. She finally induced two other girls to join her in her hobbies of graham wafers, boiled water and barefoot dancing on dewey grass at daybreak. And in spite of all her precautions, the leader of the ultra-moderns herself falls deeply in love with a piano tuner and the final scenes are as unusual as they are funny.

"Miss Hobbs" is a splendid program picture and is appearing today and tomorrow at the Majestic theatre.

"THE CHEATER"

May Allison, the captivating Metro star, is announced as the leading character in "The Cheater," which opens today at the Sigma theatre for a three-day run. This picture is a screen version of "Judah," the notable stage play by Henry Arthur Jones, and deals with faith healing, being, in fact, a second "Miracle Man."

Miss Allison's role is that of Lily Meany, who, under the name of Vashita Dethic, has won a reputation for effective cures by faith. She knows she is a cheater and when she faces the prospect of trying to cure the crippled sister of Judah, Lord Asgarby, she experiences a change of heart. The drama of her redemption is developed with wonderful skill

Whirl Of Girls At The Orpheum

A gorgeous whirl of girls, color and song, beautifully staged in novel scenic effects and magnificent costumes, "The Rainbow Cocktail," a big-time act direct from the leading theatres of the east will be the headline offering for the first half of the week at the Orpheum, starting at the matinee today, while "Hearts and Flowers," called "A Jigant bouquet of youth, loveliness and beguilement," will be the first featured offering for the last half of the week, starting Thursday. It is said that laughter and lightheartedness will reign supreme on each of the evening big time programs for the week, with each attraction different in many delightful and irresistible ways from any seen in Lima heretofore.

An extra added attraction for the first half of the week, starting today, will be "Walters Wa. ted," one of the most humorous and laughable skits ever presented at the Orpheum. Other acts starting today will be Orpheus, an unique and highly pleasing musical offering; the La Silvans, in a novelty of thrills, Smith and Bagley, comedians of exceptional ability; the Saltos, in an oddity which will close the program with a fitting climax of enticement. In addition to "Hearts and Flowers," the program starting Thursday, for the last half of the week, will consist of Posey and Powell, a wonderful comedy duo; Wilbur and Adams, a man and a miss, in "Something to Giggie About;" Panny Lee & Co. in an entrancing comedy play let; Tyson and De Costa, in a worthy contribution of good cheer; Jack Kay, in a comedy singing and lark manipulation turn.

RUSSIAN AUTHORESS, LONG BELIEVED DEAD, ALIVE

Madame Zenaide A. Ragozin, for Two Years Missing In Russia, at Last Heard From—Had to Work Like Slave to Keep from Starving

NEW YORK.—After all trace of her had been lost for over two years and her death had been taken for granted in literary circles, Zenaide A. Ragozin, famous Russian authoress, comes to life. For two years her publishers in New York have been moving heaven and earth in an effort to secure information regarding her whereabouts. Since 1918, when she completed for them a work called "Little Russian Masterpieces," just published, all efforts to reach her have been unavailing.

After the American Red Cross reported that they could not locate her it was assumed that she had been killed in the bloody riots that took place in her home city, Petrograd, in 1918. And now comes a letter from Madame Ragozin showing that she is very much alive. The news of her safety is expected to create a sensation in American literary circles, as she made many friends among our writers during her ten years' residence in America, and all of these friends have taken her death for granted.

ENTER IS RECEIVED
Madame Ragozin's letter, which was received a few days ago, reads in part as follows:

"How dreadful it has been not to hear from America for more than two years. I can understand, and in fact, expect that you all, mourning my friends probably think me dead, as thousands of younger people have been unable to survive what we have been and still are undergoing in the way of hunger, hardship and privation. Still that should not have deterred my friends from making an attempt to locate me. But not one line from anyone. It is rather cruel to have one's death taken for granted, but I comfort myself with the certainty that you will all be not merely astonished but more or less pleased that I am still in the land of the living."

"I have seen a great deal in the past two years—much that is horrible and little that is hopeful or auspicious. Your worst previsions have been outdone. Russia has presented the awful spectacle of a nation gone mad, but perhaps that was to be expected after the overthrow of the old regime."

SCENES OF HORROR
"What have I not seen! Institutions abolished, beginning with the courts of justice; the criminal prisons thrown open, and 'decrees,' a shower of them. And what decrees! Inheritance and the right of bequest abolished; furniture, jewelry, wardrobe, to the last trifle, confiscated at death; lands taken away from the owners, along with livestock, houses, furnishings, etc., all without compensation—and all these decrees enforced with rifles and machine guns. While there has been a 'decree of general disarmament,' the peasantry and working classes have not merely been permitted but commanded to be armed, so that orderly citizens have been at the mercy of the rabble, not to speak of wholesale housebreaking, robbery, assaults, not by night alone, but by broad daylight, in the open streets, and to all this add famine. Imagine paying 200 rubles for a turner of milk! That is the price today. For two years I have tasted no meat, butter, eggs or sugar. I have lived practically on salt herring and bread. I have also had some tea, thanks to the courtesy of the American Red Cross, then I managed to secure three roundloaves. Oh, the struggle for existence is terrible! I have to work like a slave not to starve."

ELECTIONS A FARE

"Oh, what we have not gone through! The so-called elections to the Constituent Assembly were a farce. In the villages it was simply itself; the people were given one ticket, Bolshevik. In the cities the people are not so easily handled, so some moral suasion had to be applied, in most cases as follows: At the ballot boxes stood three or four armed guardsmen with rifles and revolvers and looked the ballots over before they were dropped in, and the unacceptable ones were either changed for 'right one,' or, if dropped in case of too vigorous protest.

MOVIE STAR BELL E AT ACTORS' BALL

Vivacious Vivian, as she is called, was one of the prettiest and most popular of the screen stars who attended the actors' ball held at the Astor in New York city. These balls are always of great interest because so many stage and screen luminaries and famous folk attend. It is always a treat to see so many celebrities at one time and out of character. Miss Martha wore a pretty dance frock of silver and lace.

Beauty—and Comfort

Redfern Corsets

THERE is no corset which can equal a Redfern in giving that sense of luxurious comfort which women instinctively appreciate. A Redfern will give your figure the most beautiful modelled contours imaginable—the slim hips, the flat back, the low bust effect demanded by the mode—but at no expense of ease or freedom.

A Redfern does not "bind." The material never seems to squeeze the flesh, nor does the boning make its presence felt. There are no "tight spots," no pulling or straining. And why? Because every Redfern, for every type of figure, is correctly designed and correctly cut for the figure it is destined to fit. Let us give you a fitting—and prove it!

Thanksgiving Week Witnesses Presence of Students About the Home Hearth

Plans Forming for the Christmas Vacation Period—Bazaars to Be Held

THE home coming of college people arouses always in Lima society a new impetus for all kinds of delightful social functions, and during the past week there were several delightful dancing parties, dinners and bridge affairs.

A group of young people arrived on Wednesday of last week to spend Thanksgiving and the week end with their parents. Much of their energy was spent in planning for ideal vacation enjoyment during the Christmas holidays, when "everyone" will be at home, guests will be many and special festivities will fill the week. The colder weather and the one snow was a gentle reminder of the nearness of Christmas. Thoughts of that happy season offers one out-standing message to those who have not completed Christmas preparations. It is impossible to finish all the attractive gifts which are made by hand, and the women would be in desperate straits, were it not for the bazaar which will soon be held.

The first of these will be held at the Christ Episcopal church, featured by the St. Martha's Guild, an annual affair for which many of the members of the Guild have been devoting much time during the last few months. The proceeds will be used for the benefit of the new church, recently erected. The affair will be held at the Ottawa Paint shop on December 11th. Mrs. Ernest Baird and Mrs. Carl Crites are the ladies in charge and there will be fancy work, baked goods and a large display of candles.

Other bazaars are being planned by organizations, but definite plans have not been announced.

The Missionary society of the Calvary Reformed church will present the "Rainbow Pageant" at the church on Sunday evening. Mrs. A. H. Rhoda is in charge. Mrs. S. K. Mossman, Bluffton, will give a short address.

WAS SHE MRS. NAT GOODWIN NO. 67

Georgiana Gardiner

The autographed photo above has attracted much attention and aroused much speculation in New York. Georgiana Gardiner, original of the photo, attended Nat Goodwin, noted actor, during his last illness. His five known ventures in the matrimonial sea and his comments regarding his ventures gained him much publicity. And now the photo above, given out by Georgiana, is autographed "Georgiana Goodwin" which has raised the question. Was she Mrs. Goodwin No. 67?

Mrs. Homer Evers, N. Pine-st., entertained with a Thanksgiving dinner at her home on Thursday. Following the repast cards were enjoyed. John Evers and sons, John and Clarence, Neal Evers, Margaret Fricke, Jane Winkler, Leipsic, held high score, while John Evers was consoled. The affair was given for the pleasure of Mrs. Anna Winkler, Leipsic.

Guests included, Mrs. Anna Winkler, Miss Jane Winkler, Miss Marie Winkler, Frank Ritten, Roy Fetters, Leipsic, Mr. and Mrs. M. Romaker, and son, Harold, Custer, Mr. and Mrs. John Evers and sons, John and Clarence, Neal Evers, Margaret Fricke, Jane Winkler, Leipsic, Mr. and Mrs. E. Wilhelm and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Evers.

The L. C. of O. E. U. E. will meet at the home of Mrs. Homer Evers, 324 N. Pine-st., Thursday afternoon.

FILET COLLAR TO FIT SQUARE NECK IS PRETTY FANCY

BY ELOISE

The fashionable neckline of the hour is square. Of course it is always a bit dangerous to write what the fashion of the hour is, for it may change before the ink is dry, but one thing is certain—square necked frocks and blouses will be with us at least another season. I know, for I have seen some of the new blouses for spring wear. The blouses are very often left collarless, with just the square effect, but frocks are a very different matter.

The dark wool, velvet or satin frock usually boasts of a collar and it is for these frocks that the neckwear departments are displaying fetching and dainty collars and edgings. A collar to fit the neck-line is a find indeed, and here is one which is made for the fashionable square necked frocks. It is an exquisite piece of workmanship made of filet combined with Irish lace and cut-work embroidery. It fastens at the back, leaving the front a plain and unbroken line.

The Lima Chapter of the Daughters of the Revolution will hold their December meeting on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Leah M. Butler, 684 W. Spring-st. The hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. Henry Deisel Jr., Miss Stella Pennell and Mrs. Butler. Miss Lutf Stearns, Milwaukee, Wis., will speak on "The Bitter Cry of the Children."

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fletcher, Elmwood Place, entertained with a family dinner at their home on Thanksgiving.

CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY OF CLUB

Twenty-Fifth Anniversary of Chautauqua Organization, Observed Friday Night

Quarter Century of Successful Continuance of One of Best Known City Clubs

THE Chautauqua club members celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization with a dinner at the Hotel Norval Friday evening. The organization of the club dates back to 1895 when a group of five young girls, including Mrs. William Wilson, Miss Drusilla Reilly, Miss Anna Gordon, Mrs. D. R. Cantieny, Miss Nettie Snook and Mrs. Mary Phillips formed a club for the purpose of studying the New York Chautauqua courses in literature and history. Later other members were added and the time was devoted to a discussion of present day problems.

This organization of women is one of the oldest and best known clubs in the city.

Mrs. William Wilson presided and gave a brief history of the club following the delicious six course dinner. Miss Elizabeth Parrott, a former member, now of Columbus, gave a clever toast to the charter members and Miss Hanna Gordon a toast to the Bachelor Males. Miss Anna Klein read an unusually interesting letter from Miss Clara Herr, who is now making her home in California. Miss Nettie M. Snook gave a toast to the former absent members. Mrs. Clarence Klinger, accompanied at the piano by Miss Edna Krofte, sang several delightful numbers. Miss Drusilla Reilly gave an inspiring talk on the future of the club and the president, Mrs. Musser, closed the program with a short talk on the work of the organization.

Members include: Mrs. William Anspach, Mrs. G. A. Bachmeyer, Miss Florence Bower, Miss Margaret Bevan, Mrs. G. R. Cantieny, Mrs. Lovella Durbin, Mrs. Jennie Baser, Mrs. Bell Gibbs, Miss Hanna Gordon, Mrs. Otis Harter, Miss Nettie M. Snook, Mrs. Merle Hoffman, Mrs. Anna Klein, Mrs. Sadie Musser, Mrs. C. S. Nye, Mrs. G. E. Roubesh, Miss Drusilla Reilly, Mrs. S. B. Rode-nour, Mrs. W. Wilson and Miss Min-

Davis, Miss Evelyn Bachman, Mrs. Frank Baxter, Mrs. Wallace King, Mrs. W. H. Harper, and Mrs. C. Phillips.

A most attractive wedding was solemnized at the St. John's Catholic church Thanksgiving morning when Miss Thelma Fern Caskey, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Caskey, 501 W. Vine-st., became the bride of Donald F. Williams, Miss Zelphy Caskey, sister of the bride, and Alfred Malloy attended the couple.

The bride wore an attractive suit of brown with a small hat to match and her corsage bouquet was of white roses and violets. The bride's maid wore a dress of blue satin. Immediately following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents. A huge wedding cake centered the table and at either side were cathedral candles tied with tulle.

Guests in attendance were: Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Leach, and daughter, Wilma, Mr. and Mrs. Oren Caskey, and children, Miss Irene Kelley, Miss Mary Curry, Miss Tizah McKinnon, Leo Stiffard, Edward Holtz, Alfred Malloy, Eugene Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Baker, Celina.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams left at noon for a short wedding trip to Toledo and Detroit, and upon their return will be at home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Harry Taftinger extended the hospitality of her home to the members of the Progressive Euchre club, Wednesday afternoon. Bowls of chrysanthemums adorned the rooms and in the dining room the color scheme of yellow and white was carried out. Mrs. Earl Mast held high score among the members at the close of the game and the guest prize was presented to Mrs. George Stemen. At 4 o'clock a delicious tea was served.

Howard Taftinger, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Taftinger delighted the guests with several violin numbers. Mrs. O. J. Roush, Mrs. George Stemen and Mrs. Richard Lane were guests.

In a fortnight the club will meet with Mrs. John Bowers, Richie-ave. Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Bundy, Richie-ave, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Edna Lucille, to Dr. Walter Horst, Globe, Ariz. The marriage took place in Globe on Thanksgiving Day. Following an extended trip to Los Angeles, Cal., they will be at home in Globe, Ariz. Mrs. Horst was formerly a teacher in the Lima school, but left over a year ago to take a similar position in the West.

The St. Martha's Guild of the Christ Episcopal church are planning a card party for Friday afternoon at the Parish house. The proceeds of the affair will be given over to the church funds. There will be a large display of candles to be sold as the Christmas bazaar.

The committee in charge includes: Mrs. O. Ben Schull, Mrs. J. W. Roby, Mrs. Carl Crites, Mrs. Ronda Croy, Mrs. E. R. Linesmith, Mrs. Jack Sweeney.

Members of the Lotus Social club were entertained Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Roy Walters, Richie-ave. Euchre was played and at the close of the game, high score was held by Mrs. C. E. Durbin. Mrs. John Keville assisted the hostess in serving the luncheon. Guests to enjoy the meeting with the club were Mrs. F. D. Bowers, Mrs. C. E. Umbaugh, Mrs. John Keville, Mrs. I. Scheline. The club will meet in a fortnight with Mrs. Fisher of the Marion rd.

The many friends of Miss Margaret Ferguson and W. M. Bateson will be pleased to learn of their marriage which took place at Windsor, Canada, Friday, November 19th. Mr. Bateson until recently was associated with the Solar Refinery. They will make their home in Detroit, Mich., where Mr. Bateson is contracting and building government aerial stations.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Vorhees, 959 Bellefontaine-ave, will leave Sunday for Los Angeles, Cal., where they will spend the winter months. They will be accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Cora Ellis and her daughter, Hesper.

Miss Zelma Boyd, 202 N. Central-ave, entertained with an informal luncheon Thursday for the pleasure of a number of friends.

Covers were laid for: Miss Ruth Smith, Clarence Hughes, Charles Dorz, Kenton, Mrs. Oliver and two hosts.

The King Daughter's class of the South Side Church of Christ will celebrate its birthday anniversary with an evening affair at the home of Miss Hattie Keltman, 324 S. Scott-st, Monday evening.

The Ladies' Aid and Missionary society of Zion's Lutheran church will meet Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. M. J. Ruhlen, N. Elizabeth-st. Election of officers will be a feature of the meeting.

ELIZABETH ST.

All those who enjoyed the privilege of hearing Percy MacKaye, poet, dramatic and critic will be interested to know a few incidents connected with his life and work. Among the many things done by Miami University to make their distinguished guest comfortable during his residence in Oxford, is giving him a home for his interesting family consisting of his wife and a daughter seventeen, another of eleven, and one son, now at Harvard.

They have also given him a studio in a secluded part of a forest, not far from the studio of Stillman Kelley, where each can do creative work undisturbed by telephones, visitors of petty annoyances. At a recent meeting of the Presidents of the State Universities in Washington, President R. M. Hughes, Miami, said "The most important problem for universities today is to beget fellowship upon creative artists." Miami has bestowed this upon both Percy MacKaye and Stillman Kelley. It is the only university among English speaking people having done this for creative artists. In Europe it is customary to patronize artists, but America is too democratic to do this, but the universities and colleges are showing recognition of the fact that things must be created.

It will be interesting to watch the working out of this plan which Ohio has been first to encourage. Mr. MacKaye has only been at Miami two months and is free to come and go as he wishes, no demands are made upon him, but already there are evidences of the uplift in worth while things in Ohio. He and Mr. Kelley were boyhood friends and now are again neighbors, collaborating in the great work.

Among the many positions given Mr. MacKaye was a membership to New York City's board of unofficial censors of moving pictures. He stated that women should make a great effort to create a demand for good pictures by commending the good and that few today are free from objectionable features.

The Inner Circle of the Knights of Columbus will entertain with the second of a series of winter dances at the K. of C. hall on Thursday evening. More than 75 couples attended the Thanksgiving dance and it is expected that the dance on Thursday evening will be a greater success. The Evans orchestra will furnish the music for the program of dancing.

The Chionion club will meet Monday evening with Mrs. Eugene Lipincott, W. North-st. The husbands will be guests at this meeting and an interesting lecture will be given by Prof. John Davison, a dean at the Ohio Northern University.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Reel and daughter, Toledo, are visiting with friends in this city.

A group of young girls enjoyed a theatre party Friday evening and inter repaired to the home of Miss Martha Altschul, S. McDonald-st. where dancing and games were the diversions. Later the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Those enjoying the delightful affair were Miss Frances Lou Cunningham, Elizabeth Douglas, Audrey Owen, Hazel Van Gunten, Francis Maurer, Mildred and Margaret Polder, Helen and Martha Altschul.

to entertain a fellow at the home. (b) When a girl has told of a fellow's arm in a crowd should she let go so that he might help her thru the crowd or should she keep hold of it until he ventures to take hold of her arm.

MARY JANE
(a) If the young man enjoys himself in conversation then try to make yourself an interesting talker and speak on subjects in which you think that he is interested. An evening may be enjoyed in dancing, music or cards. (b) It is considered proper for a young man to take the girl's arm while crossing the street or while in a crowd. Release the young man's arm and I am certain that he will understand.

My Dear Miss Smart: Will you please advise me? My friend's birthday is just the month before Christmas. I would like to get him a gold watch. Do you think it necessary to get him something for his birthday and also for Christmas or give it to him on his birthday and say that it is his Christmas gift too? We have been going to a steady for a year and I want to get him something good and worth while. What would you suggest in this case? I will be thankful to you.

BETTY JANE
"Well, Betty Jane, if you feel that you do not want to give the young man a gift for both his birthday and Christmas why not send him a nice birthday card and then give him the watch or job for Christmas. It is the idea of the remembrance and not the value of the gift that we should all keep in mind.

Dear Miss Smart: I feel that you have helped so many times that you doubt can help me again. I have a young brother who is very anxious to become an expert welder. Can you give me the name and address of a good welding school? He seems to prefer one in Chicago.

MRS. G. H. FULLER
I do not know of any welding schools but a course in welding is being offered at South High school and also the Lima Locomotive shops. Perhaps if you would call them they could give you more definite information.

The Palace of Darkened Windows

BY MARY HASTINGS BRADLEY

"Oh, shut up!" Billy spoke with deep disgust. "You've got to help me out of this and then forget the whole business." He paused a moment; then, "Miss Beecher made the mistake of taking a rash ride with me. She was traveling alone, to meet some friends, to Luxor—and the indiscretion is entirely mine, you understand. I got her into it. And then, as I said, a Turkish fellow, that had been making himself objectionable by following her, got his men out after us and chased us down here. Her trunks have gone on to Luxor where those friends are, and we have to find some presentable wraps for her and get her to the first train." "Verstehten?" "Graped and forgotten," said his friend laconically. Just for an instant his sleepy gaze touched Billy's rugged face, then fell casually away. "I suppose any comments that occur to me are superfluous?" he pleasantly observed.

"Completely." And, Lord Harry, but I'm glad to see you!" "Same here," Burroughs gave Billy's arm a friendly grip and Billy spun fiercely about on him. "Don't you do that again!" he warned. "Take the other one. That's got a scratch." One of those fellows wing you out there? Let me have a look—

"No, it's all right—it's nothing." "Let me see, you old chump—"

"It's all right, I tell you. It's been taken care of—it's just a relic of Cairo." "Cairo!" Slowly Burroughs let fall the hand he had laid upon Billy's arm. "You do seem to be having a lively trip," he commented, grinning. "Here, hurry up, you rascals, hurry up with that big jug." Taking the large jar from them, he returned to the tomb, stopping abruptly at sight of Aslee's weary abandon. She half sat up, a frail, exhausted little figure, whose grace was strangely appealing, thru all her sandy dishevelment.

"Some water—for washing," he stammered.

"You're very thoughtful." "I'll have to beg your pardon," he blurted, for Burroughs was no squire of dames. "I thought you were a little girl and spoke to you as if."

"It's just the hairpins that make the difference, isn't it?" said Aslee, with a whimsical smile. "I don't suppose you have any of those in camp that I could borrow?" He shook his head regretfully. Then his brain seized upon the problem. "Bent wire," he suggested. "I might try—"

"Do," she besought. "I'll be grateful forever."

He withdrew to make the attempt, and in his place came Billy with a tray of luncheon.

"Just—put it down," Aslee said faintly. "Oh—by and by."

Worriedly Billy looked down on the girl. Her eyes closed, excitement had ebbed, leaving her like some spent castaway on the shores. He dropped on his knees beside her, dipping a clean handkerchief in the jar of cold cream.

"Just let me get this off," he said quietly. "You'll feel better."

Like a child she submitted, lying with closed eyes while with anxious care he took the sand from her delicate, burning skin. He did the same for her delicate hands; he brushed back her hair and put water on her temples; he dabbed more cold cream tenderly on the pathetic thin cheeks on her lips.

"I'm—all right," The blue eyes looked suddenly up at him with a clear smile. "I'm—just resting."

"And now you'll eat a bit?" Obviously she took the sandwich he made for her, and lifted her head to drink the cup of tea.

"I'm—a quinsane," she murmured. "You're a brick!" he gave back, with unfeigned intensity. "You're a perfect brick!"

Then he backed hastily out of her presence, for fear his stumbling tongue would betray him—or his clumsy, longing hands—or his foolish eyes. He felt choking with the tenderness he must not express. He opened with his Big Brother pity for her, and with his longing for her, which wasn't in the least Big Brotherly, and with all the queer, bewildering, jumble of emotion that she had power to wake in him.

Very silently he returned to Burroughs, and when he had made a trifle of a toilet and eaten far from a trifle of lunch, the two young men stretched themselves out in the shade, just beyond the entrance of the tomb, conversing in low tones, while around them the labor song of Burroughs' workmen rose and fell in unvarying monotony, as from a nearby hole they carried out baskets of sand upon their heads and poured the contents upon the heap where the patient sitters were at work.

Burroughs talked of his work, the only subject of which he was capable of long and sustained conversation. He dilated upon a rare find of some blue-green tiles of the time of King Tieser, a third dynasty monarch, and a mummy case of one of the court of King Popsi, of the sixth dynasty, "about 3300 B. C.," he translated for Billy, and then suddenly he saw that Billy's eyes were absent and Billy's pipe was out.

In sudden silence he knocked out the ashes from his own pipe and slowly refilled it. "Congratulations," he ejaculated, and at Billy's slow stare he jerked his head back toward the tomb. "I say, congratulations, old man."

"Oh," Billy became ludicrously occupied with the dead pipe.

"Nothing doing," he returned decidedly.

"No—I thought—"

"You sounded as if you were thinking. Don't do it again."

"And also I had been remembering—"

"said Burroughs, with caustic emphasis, "knowing that in the past"

"Some water—for washing," he stammered.

"You're very thoughtful."

"I'll have to beg your pardon," he blurted, for Burroughs was no squire of dames. "I thought you were a little girl and spoke to you as if."

"It's just the hairpins that make the difference, isn't it?" said Aslee, with a whimsical smile. "I don't suppose you have any of those in camp that I could borrow?"

He shook his head regretfully. Then his brain seized upon the problem. "Bent wire," he suggested. "I might try—"

"Do," she besought. "I'll be grateful forever."

He withdrew to make the attempt, and in his place came Billy with a tray of luncheon.

"Just—put it down," Aslee said faintly. "Oh—by and by."

Worriedly Billy looked down on the girl. Her eyes closed, excitement had ebbed, leaving her like some spent castaway on the shores.

He dropped on his knees beside her, dipping a clean handkerchief in the jar of cold cream.

"Just let me get this off," he said quietly. "You'll feel better."

Like a child she submitted, lying with closed eyes while with anxious care he took the sand from her delicate, burning skin.

He did the same for her delicate hands; he brushed back her hair and put water on her temples; he dabbed more cold cream tenderly on the pathetic thin cheeks on her lips.

"I'm—all right," The blue eyes looked suddenly up at him with a clear smile. "I'm—just resting."

"And now you'll eat a bit?" Obviously she took the sandwich he made for her, and lifted her head to drink the cup of tea.

"I'm—a quinsane," she murmured. "You're a brick!" he gave back, with unfeigned intensity. "You're a perfect brick!"

Then he backed hastily out of her presence, for fear his stumbling tongue would betray him—or his clumsy, longing hands—or his foolish eyes. He felt choking with the tenderness he must not express.

He opened with his Big Brother pity for her, and with his longing for her, which wasn't in the least Big Brotherly, and with all the queer, bewildering, jumble of emotion that she had power to wake in him.

OUTLOOK FOR OIL BETTER, BELIEF

Mexican Interests Pin Hopes on General Obregon

HUERTA NOW 'MARKING TIME'

Awaits Induction Into Office of
New President

HOUSTON, Tex.—Until General Alvaro Obregon, President of Mexico, takes his seat, December 1, conditions surrounding the interpretation of Article 27 of the Constitution, which concerns the nationalization policy of Mexico, are regarded as being in a state of "marking time." More favorable conditions than those heretofore existing are looked forward to, however, particularly when it is recognized that both Obregon and the Provisional President, General Huerta, are very anxious for recognition by the United States of the Mexican Government as it exists since the fatal flight of Carranza.

Newspaper dispatches emanating from Mexico indicate with a considerable degree of certainty that a new era exists in the Spanish-speaking republic with regard to the Obregon-Huerta policy in dealing with foreign policies, says this article, particularly as contrasted with the conservative attitude of the Carranza regime. It may be said, however, after a careful survey of conditions by competent industrial investigators whose opinions are made the basis of this article, that the Huerta is engaged in "marking time" until General Obregon himself takes his seat and defines actually what will be the Governmental policy of Mexico for the future.

SQUABBLE WITH GONZALES
When General Huerta came into power, after the flight and death of Carranza, there had been a squabble between the Obregon and Gonzales factions in Mexico, according to men on the ground who knew and understood conditions. A lot of Gonzales' men were put into office with the accession of General Huerta, according to information gathered in the Houston office of National Petroleum News, both in direct advice from Mexico and otherwise, for the purpose of placating them, thus avoiding a scrap between the Gonzalistas and Obregon.

At the same time that the Gonzalistas were being placated by being made to replace the old Carranzistas, who had been the real heads of the Mexico City Government, minor officials or department heads are now described as the real "stand-patters" on nationalization, such as provided by Article 27 of the Mexican Constitution sought to be put in force by Carranza. It is these same minor officials that all the time have been fighting the position of the foreign oil operators on Article 27. Since the old time companies never were "concessionaires," but acquired property from private owners, who had held them from the crown of Spain by continuous chains of titles dating back as long as 300 years, the truth is that no old line American company has ever had an oil concession from Mexico since the beginning of commercial development of petroleum in that country.

A FRIENDLY OFFICIAL
Already officials in Mexico are regarded as attempting to "save their faces," looking for an "avenue of escape." And the point is further made that one of Obregon's chief supporters is the old friend of the oil companies, General Manuel Paez, who it is generally believed will play a very great part in forming the future policy of the Mexican Government insofar as it relates to the oil companies and their operation.

Paez is unquestionably better informed than the others of Obregon's supporters with regard to the oil industry in Mexico, having lived in the midst of the developed area along the east coast, near Tampico, and having personal knowledge of the handicaps incident to operation; the expenses involved in exploiting the oil fields; the bona fide nature of property ownership, etc., besides—in addition to his natural opposition to nationalization—he owns a large ranch on which one of the principal operating companies has good production, this property the Tierra Amarilla tract (meaning yellow land).

The belief is that the deadlock now existing in the Mexican Government's dealing with the nationalization question may be broken as a way out of the problem, especially as it is regarded as certain that there is little possibility of the United States recognizing the Mexican Government unless the latter "comes clean" both with regard to nationalization of oil lands; the improper granting of concessions on federal zones, and just valuations on oil so as to form a fair basis of taxation. The present excuse being so high as to be regarded as very nearly satisfactory.

Also it must be understood that the foreign oil companies operating in Mexico are taking no part in the politics of that country. It may be said that the industry generally feels a satisfaction at the outlook for a policy in the future which is considered to welcome foreign investments and the general upbuilding of the Spanish-speaking republic.

Improved Air Cooled

It covers the most important element of continued satisfaction—MOTOR-COOLING—and we positively guarantee every Holmes Series Four against any trouble due to improper cooling.

The Holmes AERODUCT—the greatest engineering achievement in motor car design in ten years—makes this remarkable guaranty possible.

It doubles the efficiency of ANY system of air-cooling.

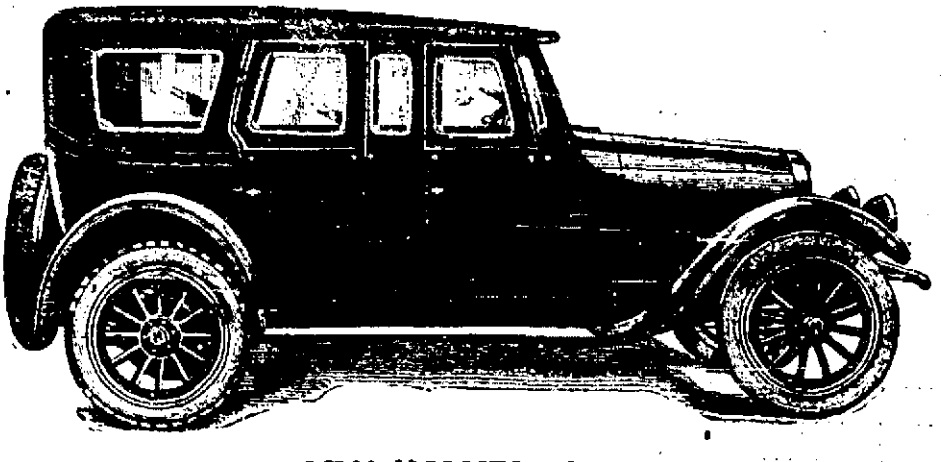

It absolutely eliminates any possibility of overheating so long as there is lubricating oil in the motor.

It gives a motor which will use any Motor Oil satisfactory.

And in the performance of the car it:—

- Permits continued driving at full speed without heating.
- Continued pulling at full load without heating.
- Cold and hot weather without a thought of cooling.

The records made by the new Holmes Series 4 prove it to be the fastest of all road cars for cross-country driving because it combines high car speed with a riding comfort that enables you to use this speed over practically all roads.

SHORT SHAVINGS

It was the twins' first time at Sunday school. During the hour and a half of their absence mother presented a calm exterior, while inwardly wondering how her off-spring would acquit themselves in their new environment. Betty, it left to herself, would cause her no embarrassment, but Buster could always be relied upon to do the unexpected, particularly under new and interesting surroundings.

They finally returned under Nellie's convey with an air of suppressed excitement and elation. Hats and coats off and a certain amount of calm restored after the events of the afternoon, mother ventured to ask a few questions, while dreading the possible replies. "Now, children," she said, "you may tell me all about it. What did you learn and what did you do?"

Buster, as usual, was the spokesman. "We sang," he announced proudly. "Teacher said it didn't matter if we didn't know the words—to just sing, and sing as loud as we could, and we did. Betty and I sang louder than any of the other kids."

"Was it a hymn you know?" ventured mother timidly. "Onward, Christian Soldiers," perhaps?"

"No," came Buster's exultant reply. "We didn't know the hymn. We sang 'Tipperary.'"

"What's the matter? You look thoughtful."

"My six-year-old son brought home a list of questions to answer."

"What of that?"

"My average ranks me as a deficient kid."

LARGE MERCHANT FLEET ON HAND

U. S. Ships to Be Used in Foreign Commerce

LONDON.—Discussing the new American merchant marine in a special American number of the Manchester Guardian Winthrop L. Marvlin, vice-president of the American Steamship Owners' Association, says in part:

"The signing of the armistice on November 11, 1918, left on the hands of the American Government merchant steamers of a total gross tonnage of almost 12,000,000, substantially more than one-half of the entire merchant shipping of the British Empire in 1914, before the U-boats had begun their ravaging.

"Most of these ships are distinctly overseas carriers and there is relatively small room for them in the enormous coastwise and lake trade of the United States, which in 1914 was fully supplied with 6,352,536 tons of shipping, a fleet in itself about 40 per cent greater than the entire merchant marine of Germany.

"The Americans have no choice about it; they absolutely must employ their Government-built fleet for purposes of foreign commerce. It will, in a large part, balance the war-damaged tonnage of Great Britain, France, Italy and Scandinavia.

"The new American Merchant Service act opens with a formal declaration of the determination of the Government and people to maintain a great merchant fleet, capable of carrying the bulk of the country's seaborne commerce and of providing a sufficient reserve of ships officers and men in war—all these ships ultimately to be owned and operated privately by citizens of the United States." To that end the Shipping Board is instructed to sell the Government-owned fleet "as soon as practicable, consistent with good business methods and the objects and purposes to be attained by this act."

It is particularly emphasized that the ships shall be sold only to American citizens or to corporations American controlled—with the proviso that those vessels which Americans do not need and will not buy may after due investigation of the facts be disposed of to foreigners.

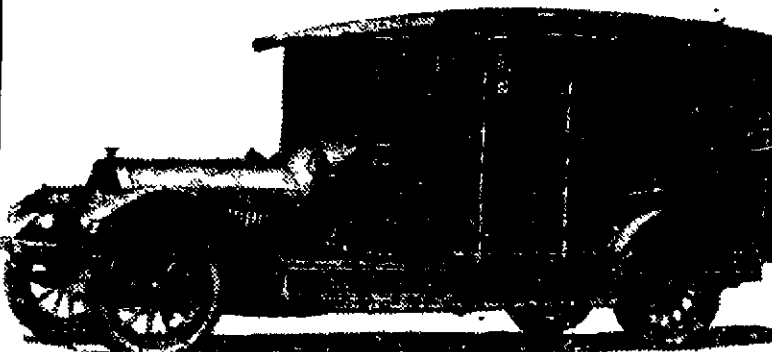

"The Shipping Board has already established, and thru private companies is operating, cargo service to the chief ports of the world. New lines of postal steamers already run from New York to both the east coast and the west coast of South America. Two Oriental lines are projected across the Pacific Ocean. On the North Atlantic the existing American service of the International Mercantile Marine has received many large cargo ships, and has been awarded the huge passenger liner Leviathan while a second transatlantic route to Bremen is provided for the United States Mail Steamship Company. About thirty former German liners seized in American ports are being reconditioned for commerce, and twenty or more new steamships designed as transports but being completed for commercial liner service will be ready for use next year. The largest are of 14,000 tons register, with a speed of 17 1-2 knots, and some of them are intended for transatlantic carrying. It is the belief of American managers that such vessels as these, rather than record-breaking giants, are best adapted to the all-around requirements of sea-borne trade."

HYNICKA'S SCALP IS SOUGHT

Cincinnati Boss is Target of Concerted Bombardment.

WHO'LL BOSS GOV. DAVIS?

Pilgrim From New York Brings Tale of Industry Decline.

(BY MARCUS)
COLUMBUS — Identically the same struggle (albeit predicated upon different issues) that is now going on to ascertain which faction of the Republican party is to have the dominant voice with Senator Warren G. Harding when he becomes President, is in progress in Ohio and rages about the person of Governor-elect Harry L. Davis. In Ohio, it is far more of a patronage matter than anything else and ramifies into organization control. This is the real meaning of the wrestling over the legislative organization. It has been calculated, for some reason to this person unknown, that Davis is not strong enough to be his own master and that whoever possesses the whip in the general assembly can rule him with ease. Republican State Chairman George H. Clark, Secretary of State Harvey C. Smith, Walter F. Brown, of Toledo, and National Committeeman Rud K. Hynicka, of Cincinnati, tried for it, but it seems, gentle readers, that all of them fell outside the broadwork. It advances indications are anything these esteemed gentlemen have been whipped till the blood is in their boots. When despatches ceased, Smith and Treasurer of State H. W. Archer were the only state officers left who were willing to stick. Even Brown, who was a valiant help two years ago, had taken to cover.

The contest goes even further than the organization and having the last word with the Governor, but even that is big. If the coteries back of Senate Clerk William E. Malley organize the senate, this will mean that former State Chairman Harry M. Daugherty can laugh at his enemies. The senate control means control over appointments as the penalty of refusal to ratify and will make the new Governor listen to reason. The other side nominated Davis, but they have little to offer him now. Davis has a fashion of playing up to the people who have power and letting the dead past bury its dead. Some unkind folks call this "double-crossing" friends, but in these days of enforced morality no law has been enacted forbidding more than one-half of one per cent of ingratitude and so merely forming new associations in politics is a simple affair, with no suggestion in it of a moral lapse. Aside from the patronage end, the load of Hynicka on Davis was becoming a heavy one and as it is now for the Governor to play a "law enforcement" game, the Cincinnati boss was doing him no good. The ash heap being near, the time is at hand for dumping.

And if there is anything that the Republican party does seem to want at this time it is the head of Mr. Hynicka. In all parts of Ohio, the newspapers that present the true faith are hammering away at the boss, inspired by the anti-saloon league and by the fact that all newspapers in his home city are after him. The provocation seems to be greater because he is a member of the national committee and will be for another three and a half years, notwithstanding anything that may be done by others. To this position he achieved re-election because Senator Harding at Chicago was under danger of desertion by the Hynicka faction delegates. The gun pointed at his head made him yield, but it did not make his friends forget. So it has been determined that Hynicka's name shall be printed on the list of committeemen, but that otherwise he shall not figure much. With the open attacks and statements are secret oaths known to the initiated in state affairs. Hynicka must go, reads the decree. If he takes the hint it will be well, but if not, then there will be a Democratic may or in Cincinnati, if need be thru the agency of a separate independent ticket to split off enough to encompass the downfall of the Hynicka state. Well, the type of boss is passing anyway. "Too rough" is the verdict of the people generally.

That is what made many people wonder why Republican State Chairman George H. Clark took so strongly to an alliance with Rud K. Hynicka. He is one of the presidents of the "In-Rad" Club. Hynicka has never been forgiven the failure of Hamilton to support Frank B. Willis in 1918 and to this failure rather than to Willis's own failure is falsely ascribed the election result. But more than that, Hynicka is losing out in Cincinnati. When they go defying a boss down that way, his days are numbered, even if he seems to be in the very heyday of power. How deeply his power has been challenged is shown in the Hyde Park Business Men's Club affair, where it was established that he sought defeat of Albert H. Morrill, who was found guilty of saying that Hynicka must go. Mr. Morrill sets out the situation quite succinctly when he said: "But the issue here thrust on me will not die. The fact that the invisible long-distance hand can put on pressure to turn a man's own friends and associates against him in a non-political contest illustrates better than anything else why this hand should be removed, absolutely and completely." Morrill has long been a regular and is of the type not easily moved to anger.

An interview of really great interest to the people of Ohio was given in Washington on the same day that they read the statements of this old sage on the moving forces at work in Ohio on the League of Nations proposition. Senator Gilbert H. Hitchcock, of Nebraska, said that it was becoming clearer and clearer that nothing could be done until peace conditions were restored. The intimation was carried out that they can be restored in full measure only when there is real peace—not, as he put it, thru a sham separate peace, but outrance upon the League of Nations. His interview is a summary of the reasons for the present depression. He says: "This business depression may be partly psychological, but the effect is just the same as if there were real causes for lack of confidence. Doubt has caused stagnation. We have the raw material to sell, but foreign nations cannot purchase them without money or extensive credit. The matter has passed out of the realm of idealism and is now a vital business proposition. We have a great surplus to sell, while people in European countries are starving. Our mines, our farms and our factories are stocked with the things needed abroad but our would-be customers cannot buy them." That statement can be attested to for accuracy by every farmer and producer in the country. Every line in Ohio is bad, save only coal and that due to abnormal conditions of scarcity. If spring comes with no relief it, too, will go. Blooey!

A pilgrim from Ohio returning to this good old commonwealth after a few days in New York found that the financial and commercial interests are anticipating still further declines. The observation was made by him in a few months good Ohio farms would be bringing $50 or $60 an acre, where they have been bringing $250 or $300. The man with dollars will be a king bee and the bankers with tight fists and hard heads will levy new tribute from the people. Foreclosures, he said, will be the order of the day. Our friend, having been steamrollered on November 2, takes a rather gloomy view of the situation, no doubt, but then he brought back news that they have a practical moratorium in nearly all parts of South America these days, a thing not much noted in the cable despatches. The sugar of Cuba cannot move for the same reason and Cuba has had a moratorium for weeks. The wool, wheat, tobacco, beef and pork producers have just the same trouble. A few wool agents and those folks laughed at idealism and prayed for protection against foreign entanglements. Now they are still free! Yes, and going broke! The other day half a dozen banks in one state were closed because of the wheat situation and if there is no help there will be no trouble in fair Ohio. Mark that down!

Along with other industrial centers, Steubenville, too, wanted a change and indicated it by a heavy majority. It has it brought promptly. The LaBelle Iron Works gave them (the workers) the change desired by laying off 1,000 men and the secular press of that locality announces it is a hard blow to the iron town. Just so. The reason for the shutdown was cancellation of orders. If one inquired further as to the reasons for the cancellations it would doubtless be found that they depended upon foreign business in one way or another. So long as the producers of goods were hit, the industrial workers might laugh at their grief and reflect piously wishes that these "producers," as they were called, might be punished duly and adequately. But now, the pain and anguish are transferred and others are knowing the delights of plenty of time to sit and ponder. The unemployment lines grow longer and longer. It is a plain fact, known to all men. Yet the country has work to do. They will grow longer and longer until this nation assumes its rightful place in the world. Ohio workmen and Ohio farmers are feeling the same creeping paralysis of stagnation that is coming over business of all sorts, except bankruptcy courts, which are functioning perfectly. And that is why Marion Ohio, will hear some plain words when the jazzing and peal-reading on decks of steamers in tropical seas are over, and stern realities are to be faced.

When business demands, it gets demand. Eliza Root may be persecuted by the anti-saloon league in Westerville and those responsible in the normally Democratic counties that went two to one Republican but sooner or later the word that he brings will be heard. This is the tip that has been held by knowing Republicans in these parts for some weeks and it seems as if they knew what was what. The treaty-making element in Ohio never was very strong, before the campaign, being confined to editors like Charles L. Knight, of Akron, who had to defend himself on his loyalty record and radical aliens in Cleveland and other northern Ohio cities. The bulk of Ohio Republicans seem to have gone league fanatics, notwithstanding the campaign. Nearly all of the influential Republican newspapers are pro-league, or rather were. Some now are slow about coming back but they are getting mighty friendly toward the news from the actual league sessions and sort of assuming that sooner or later America will be in. That movement will grow if the public thinks that being out is costing a great money and business. That notion that they will get next to what is going on has made the fox-nosed politicians anxious for action, before the party is driven to it, by heck.

When every other form of amusement fails they often take a crack at Bill Durbin, Democratic state chairman. And Bill is willing to be a foot-over he alights, the oldcogder is a ball for the festively inclined. When storm center, altho of late years he has become as mild as a June zephyr, "Wild Bill" no longer fits for Ho. William W., now a prosperous manufacturer. But the other fellows get wild. The Hammer is wielded at this season by Dwight Matchett, "Wapak" editor and suspected strongly of being the mouthpiece of certain cantankerous Fourth district elements. The cause of complaint is not definitely set out but it seems to be that it was because the Democrats lost. And they don't blame Bill. That is a surprising state of affairs. Democrats lost everywhere and have gone thru it without losing their tempers. Durbin did everything possible for a man to do. If the complaint was on the ground of mixing up in fourth district pre-primary affairs, there is ground for complaint. Matchett also complained about the failure of the committee to throw off one J. Lendall Williams, accused in the high court of Democracy of treachery. That doubtless will be taught in good time and Williams compelled to answer and show cause. From what has been learned it looks like an open and shut case against him, but then he is entitled to his day in court. Legally, there seems to be no remedy even if the charges are true, but an easy way would be to ignore him. Never tell him it state committee meetings, for instance.

There seems to be but little disposition on the part of Ohio lawmakers to imitate the proposal of Senator A. B. Cummings, of Iowa, for local anti-strike legislation to fill out the program of the kind of national proposal. Governor Henry J. Allen, of Kansas, discussed his scheme of industrial courts in Cincinnati recently and many business men cheered him, but the reason that no one wants to spend money on propaganda for a state act of similar nature is that there is a referendum in Ohio and this measure might—likely would—be knocked higher than Gilroy's kite, which was some high, let us add. People in Ohio of all parties draw the line at compulsory work. The laws might work in Pennsylvania, but never in this state. They held meetings here when forbidden in other places and there will be no steps toward slavery in Ohio. That no attempt is likely to be made in that direction is due to the shotgun behind the door or over the mantel piece, referring to the shotgun referendum. Seems, too, as if it would not be a bad idea if the people who objected to arbitrary action of Congress bestirred themselves for the same sort of national protective fire-piece. It puts the fear of the wrath to come into the oppressive lawmaker. Ohio seems to have had a big hand in starting the crusade against crime waves which are running riot in several states. Cleveland, too, began the Ohio crusade when things were hot for officials because of past indulgence. One measures accurately the public reaction against the banditry pests by the attitude of Chicago. As before said, the public shows signs of wanting an end of pandering to crime. At present it seems to be going to extremes and laws like the indeterminate sentence act are in danger because of the extremist tendency. Next there will be those who will want to repeal the suspended sentence law. Strangely enough, it is less likely to be repealed than those who have suspended sentences who make trouble. The Ohio institute for public efficiency has recently pointed to the fact that there is no consolidated parole system that embraces the suspended sentence man. The trouble, so far as the robber, burglar and gun pest, are concerned, is to be traced to officials who allow these gangs around towns. Nor does it seem that it is a matter of humor or economic pressure that brings crime, but just pure cussedness. Add to this a desire to live without working. The remedy that has never been tried by police is to shoot up a few gangs. Lead, lots of it, makes good medicine for certain diseases. It doesn't hurt to look up known crooks either. In Columbus the principal "fences" are the closest friends of the police. How is it in your town?

39th Anniversary Celebration

BEGINS MONDAY, NOV. 29th

AND CONTINUES FOR ONE WEEK

An unprecedented Value-Giving Event in celebration of 39 years of shoe dealing in Lima.

When We Began Selling Shoes--- 39 Years Ago

Back in 1881 Main street was a muddy pike, the west side from High to North streets a high bank, upon which reposed the majestic homesteads of Dr. Wm. H. Harper, Branson Perry Holmes and Isaac Satterwaite, and from whose front door steps one could look across to Lima's only sky scraper, just erected at that time, the Crouse Block, towering in its "bricky" elegance far and above the remaining frame buildings that lined Main street from North street to the Square. In this new Crouse building "The House of Gooding" had its start and still remains. The Court House was up one story—construction of the Faurot Block had just begun and the old Burnett House, Lima's famous hostelry in those days, stood at the present site of the Norval Hotel, and up and down through the center of Main street ran Ben Faurot's one horse car. About 7000 people inhabited our fair village at that time and to this populace Jim Langan dispensed groceries at the present site of the City Bank corner. J. C. Thompson, Hexter Bros., and W. W. Williams sold Dry Goods and Notions, and Boots and Shoes could be purchased at Henry Neice's, at W. L. Walt's, at Roger's and at Gooding's. There were no daily papers in those days, but the news of the time came in weekly doses as printed by the "Republican," "Gazette," "Times" and "Democrat." Lima's leading industries, then were the C. H. & D. shops and the Paper Mill. The present Locomotive Works is the out-growth of the old Agerter-Carnes Company, then making locomotives in the present site of the East Iron Machine Company. Lima had no Water Works in those days; oil had not been discovered. Lima's oldest and best shoe store started away back there in 1881 and this week celebrates its 39th birthday, by setting aside the entire week in which all thought of cost and profit is abandoned in an unprecedented value giving event.

GERMANY DEFIANT OF LEAGUE

Letter by Bernberg Stirs Assembly at Geneva

'NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR WAR'

Can't Condemn Sinking of Lusitania, He Says

GENEVA — Dr. Bernard Bernberg's defiant letter to Foreign Minister Puerrydon, of Argentina, in which the former declared that Germany refused to accept any greater responsibility for the war than the allies, was the chief topic of conversation Saturday night among the delegates to the League of Nations assembly.

By some it was interpreted as preliminary to formal demand for Germany's immediate admission to the league. If this demand should be made, the tempo of certain representatives already has shown that there will be a series of serious discussions.

After declaring that he could not condemn the sinking of the Lusitania "without disloyalty to my country," that "we are waiting to prove that the means and measures used by Germany in this war, were, neither in proportion, nor kind, were more criminal than those used by our adversaries," and that Germany "neither seek excuse nor ask forgiveness from others or ourselves," Bernberg declared that "the justice in regard to the League, a statement must be made that all belligerents were equal; that all belonged to the old system; that all shared in the same political and economic, and consequently, in the same burden."

Bernberg further demanded that the league should renounce all condemnatory judgment of Germany contained in the treaty of Versailles, taking occasion to intimate that Premier Clemenceau succeeded in working off his personal bitterness against Germany under the cloak of the pact.

The writer professed his letter by saying the Argentinian was the "first to stress so sincerely and energetically the necessity that the League shall compel all the great powers," and that Puerrydon also was the "only one to find encouraging words in recognition of Germany's loyalty in carrying out the treaty."

He then launched into a criticism of the present league structure, a fitting instrument to attend fulfillment of its sublime task of securing peace on earth and the cooperation of all men," he wrote. "The majority of those in the conference, do, however, believe in the possibility of its perfection."

In discussing the relation of the treaty to the league, in so far as it involves Germany, Bernberg said: "The German people are deeply hurt, not so much perhaps because of the economic and financial stipulations of the treaty, as in respect of the assertions upon which most of these stipulations are made, whereby the German people are branded with the stigma of moral unworthiness."

"Because of these offensive, one-sided statements, which have not been approved in any impartial forum, they are unbearable for the German people and destroy at the outset the spirit and good will without which the league cannot thrive."

Sweden submitted to the League Saturday for publication, two treaties with the United States.

As the result of Argentina's strong fight, the league's first commission recommended its decision to recommend that no amendments be made to the covenant at this session, and decided to be recommended appointment of a sub-committee to consider the question of attempts.

The third commission took up the amendment to the draft for an international tribunal of justice, providing that the latter be divided into two sections, one for labor and the other for general cases.

JOHN B. STRATTON DIES AT HOME HERE SATURDAY
John B. Stratton, 63, of two weeks, died Saturday afternoon at his home, 1755 S. Main-st., of pneumonia. He was a retired farmer, born in Anglin, Ohio.

OFFICERS DEFIED BY FUGITIVE

West Virginian Fights from Cabin Until Wounded

BLUEFIELD, W. Va. — Henry Hollingsworth, 45, accused of many local robberies, and of a bank robbery in Washington, is in a hospital here under police guard after a battle with deputy sheriffs who accomplished his arrest.

Hollingsworth was shot thru both arms in a siege of a cabin in which he had barricaded himself. Deputy sheriffs obtained a warrant and went on a hunt for Hollingsworth. They met him on a lonely country road near this city and a battle followed.

Sheriff Bennett fell seriously wounded and Hollingsworth fled into a cabin in the hills.

The officers telephoned for reinforcements, and ten heavily armed officers rushed to the scene. Scores of shots were fired into the cabin, Hollingsworth returning bullet for bullet. Finally, Deputy Sheriff White caught a glimpse of the fugitive behind a shutter and fired twice. One bullet pierced each of Hollingsworth's arms. Weakened by loss of blood, he collapsed and officers entered the cabin and captured him.

DONATIONS HEAVY

St. Rita's Guild Shower is Great Success.

St. Rita's Guild scored heavily in the success of their annual fruit shower and donor week for St. Rita's hospital.

GOMPERS HITS AT HARDING

Puts the President-Elect in Autocratic Class

SEES BLOW AIMED AT LABOR

Movement on to Crush Workers, He Declares

WASHINGTON — President-elect Harding is a member of a Marion, Ohio, employers' association, similar to those working to destroy collective bargaining and bring about autocratic control of industry, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, charged in an editorial in an issue of the Federationist, official publication of organized labor made public Saturday.

"These employers' associations, which have been waiting years to set up an industrial oligarchy, according to Gompers, "found great encouragement in the election results in general." Therefore, Gompers argues, "fears may be expressed properly," whether these employers will receive "official encouragement."

"But if reaction considers the election as a mandate to destroy human freedom, it is mistaken and will discover its mistake," Gompers warns.

EDITORIALS QUOTED

Gompers called attention to post-election editorials published by a well-known daily financial newspaper in New York and other newspapers.

The financial newspaper editorial, as quoted by Gompers, called for amendments to the "unprincipled Clayton act, exempting the American Federation of Labor and unions generally, from operation of the anti-trust law." An editorial in the Hearst newspapers called for extension of the territory of the United States straight south to the Panama canal, Gompers said.

These editorials and the issuance of several injunctions against strikers are held up by Gompers as indicative of "what may be assumed is the plan and the scheme of reaction."

WORKERS ADVANCE

"However," Gompers warned, "it is one thing to plan and another to execute. The dream of a great oligarchy of employers long has been in the minds of those who now speak evasively. They have long waited for a day in which the workers would be helpless and without organization of their own. Despite this hope, the workers have constantly increased their strength, constantly enlarged their organization, constantly advanced the concepts of democracy in industry."

"This is not the hour for turning backward. This is not the hour for autocratic triumphs. This is not the hour for destruction of progress, nor will that hour ever come."

"The political victory for reaction was not a mandate for destruction. The American people have not debauched their ideals nor destroyed the honor."

ARIZONA MAN CHARGED WITH KILLING FATHER

PHOENIX, Ariz. — Charges of pain from the lungs of Thomas Check were heard Thursday at the apartment building the night before the wealthy Topeka, Kas., man was found dead. Earl S. Galster testified Saturday at the preliminary hearing of Victor Check and his wife, Belle.

Victor Check is charged with murdering his father. Bruises and discolorations found on the elder Check's body after death caused the charges.

Galster occupied the apartment adjacent to the one in which the Checks lived. He testified Saturday he heard noises the night of the alleged murder, indicating the aged man was being beaten.

PROGRAM BEGUN BY REPUBLICANS

Party Leaders Start Work For New Regime

CONFERENCES ARE HELD

Leaders Meet and Map Out Congressional Action

WASHINGTON — Determined to give the country a demonstration of governmental efficiency, Republican leaders in congress plan to map out within the next few weeks the entire legislative program which they hope to enact at the special session following President-elect Harding's inauguration on March 4, it was learned Saturday.

Senator Lodge, Republican leader of the senate and Senator Penrose, finance committee chairman, at Philadelphia, there will be a series of meetings of Republican leaders here, which are expected to result in formulation of the program.

PLAN OUTLINED

The general plan, as tentatively worked out, is:

1—Limit the short session beginning December 6, to appropriation measures.

2—Put all the major committees to work during the short session on the big problems the Republicans expect to solve when they take control.

3—Present bills covering these problems in rapid fire order after the special session gets under way.

Harding will be conferred with, and congressional leaders said every effort will be made to have the legislative and executive branches of the government cooperate to the fullest extent in working out such changes as are deemed useful.

COMMITTEE WORK

Among the problems on which the committee will be put to work during the short session are these:

Tariff and tax revision; immigration; high cost of living; re-organization of government departments; agricultural; labor and railroads.

Congressional leaders said it will be impossible to make absolutely definite plans until they know more about Harding's plans with respect to peace and the proposed association of nations. Many law makers favor immediate action on domestic questions, letting the action wait until home problems have been solved.

A CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our kind appreciations to general public for their generous donations and to the members of the St. Rita's Guild whose hearty cooperation made the fruit shower so successful. The Sisters of Mercy, St. Rita's Hospital.

STORES ARE BURNED AS BOMB EXPLODES

CORK — The dray stores on St. Patrick's-st here were completely burned by fire Saturday following a number of bomb explosions. The damage is estimated at $150,000.

Reports from some quarters allege that members of the "black and tans" at the point of revolvers, prevented the fire fighters operations and later ordered all the volunteer helpers away from the scene. In Tipperary this forenoon the Sinn Fain club rooms were burned.

NAVY WALLOPS ARMY IN ANNUAL GRID BATTLE 7 TO 0

OHIO STATE TO PLAY UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA NEW YEAR'S DAY ON PACIFIC COAST—ALLEGED BALL CROOKS SEE RAY OF HOPE

MIDSHIPMEN PROVE THEIR SUPREMACY OF U. S. SCHOOLS

BY HENRY L. FARRELL

NEW YORK — Once back in the year 0002, some wise philosopher said that a straight line was the shortest way between two points.

Saturday afternoon in front of 40,000 flower-bedecked, fur-clad spectators, the Navy proved that the old rule had lost none of its veracity.

The Navy beat the Army 7 to 0 in their 23rd battle.

Ben Gund Koehler, a 21-year-old boy of 158 pounds, from Geneva, Neb., scored the touchdown that gave the Midshipmen victory and evened the count with the Army of 11 games to 11 in a 30-year period.

The line of young admirals opened holes in the heavy Army defense that a fleet of motor trucks could have driven thru.

And thru the holes that the young husky midshipmen opened, the spectacular young Koehler plunged for a touchdown.

Secretary Baker, General Pershing and the striped and braided officers of the army were there on the side lines to see the brilliant Walter Edward French, the Army tank of Morristown, N. J., stopped before he started.

Secretary Daniels and all the admirals of the navy, with their arms crowded with gilt tape, were there to see the glorious triumph of the Navy over the Army.

BIG MOGULS THERE

William G. McAdoo, Herbert Hoover, J. P. Morgan, Judge Landis, supreme head of organized baseball and five state governors, the cream of New York society who might be classed as neutrals, were there, sitting in the gray shadows that settled down on Coogan's Bluff, content to see the better team win.

The better team—all agreed—for two long periods fought in the Navy territory; then 39 minutes of battle, fought in the shadow of their own goal posts, the Navy team caused its blue-blanketed goat on the side lines to bleat with anxiety.

For two periods and a half of a bitterly fought battle, the Army outmaneuvered the Navy. For 37 and a half minutes of a man-to-man conflict, the Navy stands were moaning—"Can they hold against it?"

COMES LIKE A BOLT

Then suddenly, in the dying minutes of third quarter, as a bolt from the dusk that was gathering over the crowded grand stands, the Navy punch was loosed.

The midshipmen took the ball in the mid-field.

Twenty-year-old Vincent Paul Conroy, of Ogden, Utah, and the youthful Koehler, broke thru the holes that gallant line opened for yards and yards. The Army defense collapsed.

Up in the stands where the gray-clad cadets were gritting their teeth until their jaws hurt with exhortation—"Holt 'em, Army!"—down on the field where trainers were running out, dashing cold water in the faces of the faltering young generals, all over the big hollow filled with humanity, the hunch spread that the Army was gone.

CRISS-CROSS PLAY WORKS

A criss-cross play on the 12-yard line worked. Early in the final period Conroy, the Ogden boy, whose hands resembled those of a dreadnaught coal heaver, took a pass from center, feinted a run to the left, passed the ball to Ben Gund Koehler and he squirmed thru the Army line for a touchdown.

Mr. Clyde King, he of the education too made the count 7 to 0 with a perfect goal from touchdown.

The game was over then. Conroy, by two fumbles on the Army's ten-yard line later in the fourth period, prevented what seemed like a sure second touchdown.

But the middies were satisfied.

The cadets bet their lives and future on French. But he was a marked man from the first to the last whistle. He did get away for varying runs from ten to 30 yards but never when those runs would mean a touchdown.

CAPT. EWENS' LAST

Captain Eddie Ewen, of Portsmouth, N. H., covered himself with glory in the last game he will play for the Navy. He was a mass of flying legs and arms in the midst of the Army interference, and three times he threw the great French, the second best point scorer of the cast, for 15-yard losses.

The Army had nothing but French. When he was stopped all hope was lost. And the Navy stopped him in his tracks.

The great hero of Verdun, General Neville, of the French Army, was an Army rooter.

The Navy was there and he did a hundred miles or more up and down the side lines, dragged by two crazy midshipmen who forgot the feelings of the goat in their gloating over victory.

LOCAL TEAM DEFEATED

The "Lima Leads" Saturday night were defeated, in their first out-of-town game of the season by the Lafayette city team by a score of 28 to 15. The score at the end of the first half stood 20 to 5 in favor of Lafayette.

The local outfit lined up as follows: Roeder and Gilmora, forwards; Fisher and Armstrong, guards, and Cousins, center.

TROOP 1 BOY SCOUT VETERANS WHO ARE EXPECTED TO PUT IN STRONG BID FOR SEMI-PRO HONORS IN LIMA

Upper row—left to right—DeVoe, guard; Gilmora, forward; Roeder, forward; Hall, guard. Middle row: Correll, center; Freutiss A. Lawrence, scoutmaster and coach; Garner, guard and center; Armstrong, captain, forward.

Here's a semi-pro team of youngsters who are expected to make a big showing the coming season. This is the fourth year they have been playing together, and in the past three years they have won 36 games and only lost 7.

A few weeks ago they decided to call themselves the "Lima Leads", but will not play under that title this season.

Teams desiring games should get in touch with T. C. Gardner, 698 S. West-st. They are anxious to book a game with Spencerville Hi at Spencerville.

DARTMOUTH'S CENTER A 'MUSICAL PLAYER'

HANOVER, N. H. — "Texas Bill" Cunningham, crack center of the Dartmouth College eleven, is known as "the musical football player."

When off the gridiron, Cunningham plays the piano and writes music as part of his football training. Music gives a new punch to Cunningham's football tactics.

In addition to being a writer for magazines and newspapers and having a one-act play now travelling on the Keith circuit, Cunningham is a musician of no mean ability. He has been assistant to the professor of music at Dartmouth, playing the big organ in Rollins Chapel. He also gives recitals in many cities of his native state of Texas and in California.

MEMBER OF GLEES

As a member of the Dartmouth Glee Club the Texas wizard has sung his way over a good deal of country, and as a composer has contributed various hits to college and town entertainments.

Perhaps his greatest triumph as a song writer came last summer, when he won from a field of fifty competitors the $250 prize offered for a song for the great Texas State Fair. Bill, however, is inclined to think that "Hokey, Pray for the Lights to Go Out," which he sold to Irvin Berlin, was a better song.

WAS WAR CORRESPONDENT

While serving with the A. E. F. in France Cunningham supplied Southwestern newspapers with war correspondence, which gave him a high rating as a keen observer with a fine sense of selection and discrimination and ability to paint word pictures of the sort, for which his idol, Richard Harding Davis, was famous. Last summer he made a thrilling trip into Mexico, where he interviewed President Obregon for a group of newspapers.

Cunningham began his literary career by translating Latin poetry into English, and astonishing the academic highbrows who had been deceived by his physical appearance. The long a member of The Arts, Dartmouth's club of soft-handed undergraduate poets, musicians, artists and writers, and also a member of Round Robin, a senior literary society which debates matters of great moment, the professors are still discussing him as one of the puzzles that bob up once in every generation

LEGION TEAM IS TO PLAY TWO GAMES DURING WEEK

With two games scheduled to play this coming week, the American Legion basket ball squad is expected to swing into real action and be in even better shape for their next game here with Mansfield Independents on Dec. 10 than they were for the Milan quintet last Friday night.

Wednesday Manager Costello will take his squad to Celina where they will meet the fast Independent team of that village. On Friday night they will journey to St. Marys.

One of the hardest games of the season with a northwestern Ohio team will be played by the Legion five a week from Wednesday night when they are scheduled to stack up against the strong Kenton Reds at Kenton in a benefit game for the Kenton post of The American Legion.

The New York Nationals are going to invade Ohio the latter part of January and it is the contention of Costello that during the week of January 23 they will be brought to Lima to play against his quintet.

This game has not been definitely arranged, but it is expected that within a few days Manager Costello will have a definite statement and the day on which the big game will be played.

Another team of importance which will play the Legion here in December or January is the Em-Roe five of Indianapolis, Ind., the championship Independent outfit of the Hoosier state. Ralph Stonebreaker, one of the more foremost cage players who gained a wide distinction for himself while playing with the "Little Giants" of Wabash College, is center of the team and his appearance here should be worthy of a crowd at Memorial Hall equal to that which welcomed Governor Cox here on his campaign tour.

Costello is anxious to have more Legion men report for try-outs.

KENTON GIRLS TO PLAY B. B.

KENTON — Basketball fever has trucks the girls of Kenton and several teams of the bloomer-clad players are likely to be organized here this season. In past seasons girls' teams frequently staged games preliminary to the big contests by the city team. Miss Athena Clara, manager of the girls' team here last winter, will lead a team this year which will play at home and on foreign floors.

CALIFORNIA U. IS TO PLAY OHIO STATE

PASADENA, Calif. — Ohio State University and the University of California are the teams that will fight it out in the annual east vs. west football classic here on New Year's day.

The Tournament of Roses Association, under whose auspices the game is held, last night asked the University of California to represent the west and it was said at the University that President David Barrows undoubtedly would accept for the university. Ohio State had already accepted an invitation to represent the east.

In inviting California, the football committee of the Tournament of Roses Association said the action had been taken because the eleven was the best in the west and one of the best in the country. The only other western team to receive consideration was the University of Southern California, it was said.

SOUTH AND CENTRAL HI READY TO ENTER WINTER SPORT

JUDGE JACKSON QUALIFIED TO COACH SOUTH'S CAGE ARTISTS—MITCHELL BOOSTED FOR CAPTAINCY OF CENTRAL FOOTBALL TEAM

FAVOR JUDGE FOR COACH OF SOUTH

South Hi is in the air on who school officials will select to coach their basketball team this season.

Guy Butler, a member of the school board who was named to pick a coach with the assistance of Sept. J. E. Collins, is undecided just who the man will be. Collins is out of the city which has delayed the selection of a coach.

It is known that players are strong in favor of Judge Emmett Jackson, who is being called the "miracle man" across the river for his splendid work in turning out such a successful football team as he did from "green" material.

He is experienced. Jackson played eight years of basketball and formerly coached Central. While a player with Kenyon, he was selected as an all-state forward. His ability is not questioned.

Another man is after the coaching job, who is understood to have bid lower than Jackson.

Butler is strong for Jackson. He knows what kind of a coach he really is and undoubtedly will recognize his efforts with the football squad and uphold him for the basketball position.

The Judge is not a quitter. He is a pal of the boys and a real sportsman. Even if his team is not as successful as it might be, he is always optimistic.

Capt. Quillen, of the football squad said Saturday that the basketball candidates wanted Jackson and that he was the pick of the students.

A definite decision is expected to be reached the first part of the week.

EUROPE'S BILLIARD EXPERT WHO IS HERE AFTER HOPPE'S TITLE

With the expressed purpose of meeting Willie Hoppe, world's champion billiard player for fifteen years, Edward Horemans has just arrived from Europe. Europeans claim that he is the only man in the world who has a chance to beat Hoppe. Horemans who is a Belgian by birth, has displayed his wonderful skill in his own country, France and Holland.

MITCHELL IS IN LINE FOR BIG JOB

Following the close of the high school football season, fans start picking next year's teams and captains.

Central is in a bad predicament when it comes to losing men. Next year among the regular players there will only be Drew, Hunter, and Mitchell. The pick of the fans for captain has narrowed down to one man—Mitchell.

He has made an excellent record both this year and last in football. He is the only man on the Central team that played every minute this year. He is an excellent kicker, getting the ball out of danger several times this season at the right moment.

He is an excellent line player and can run the ends. Never playing a spectacular nor a one man game, and has gained much respect from his team mates, opposing teams and fans. His constant, steady playing has been a big feature all season.

Besides being a star in the backfield, he can handle a line position like an expert. He has played tackle and guard several quarters this season and has always handled his position with credit.

HUNTER A CANDIDATE

Hunter, the other likely candidate, has almost as good a record as Mitchell but it is the general opinion that Mitchell would be able to run the team from the backfield easier than Hunter playing at end.

Mitchell is expected to gain a steady position on the basketball squad this year. The not playing varsity basketball last year or he showed up good on class teams. The class teams were played late in the season making it almost impossible to shift him to the varsity without breaking up the system.

Election of a new captain is expected soon at Central, plans are being already made for a big banquet for the boys following which the captain is annually elected.

GIANTS PURCHASE "GOLDIE" RAPP AFTER PAT MORAN RELEASES BRILLIANT INFILDER

"Goldie" Rapp, infielder purchased recently by the New York Nationals from St. Paul, is ripe and ready to shine in the big show. That's the dope from the Minnesota city, where Rapp pastimed last season after being released by the Cincinnati Reds. The Giants paid $15,000 in cool iron men for Rapp and will also turn over two players. Red fans are thinking that Pat Moran pulled a boner in letting Rapp go last spring. If Goldie delivers for McGraw Pat'll get an awful panning.

BASKETBALL FORGES TO FRONT IN LIMA HIGH SCHOOLS

BY BILL CUNNINGHAM

Basketball practices for both Central and South Hi will start early this week if plans are carried out. Both schools are turning their attention to the pill tossers, now that the football season has closed.

It is expected that Judge Jackson will coach South Hi in basketball. Jackson has made a good record in basketball, both as a player and as a coach.

He coached Central Hi several years ago. This team cleaned up on all teams in this vicinity and was named out in the Delaware Tournament by two points by Mt. Vernon in the semi-finals. A notable incident of this team was that attempted to make their college team, succeeded, some of them making names for themselves in several states.

COACHES ARE EXPERIENCED

Both Coach Jackson of South and Coach Detrick of Central are all-state men. Jackson made an all-state forward while playing at Kenyon and Detrick an all-state guard while playing at Wittenburg.

South is slightly handicapped this year as they only have one letter man back in school who will be able to play. This is the center, Burkhardt. There is, however, plenty of excellent material at South and their principle will probably be the same as this year's for ball season—to develop a good team for next year.

Central's chances for a successful season seem very promising. Five of last year's letter men are back in school. They are: Dille, Laughlin, Young, Douglas and Blunk. These five men composed the team in several games last year.

FIVE PLAYERS RETURN

With La Blunk at center, Young and Douglas at forwards, Dille and Blunk at guards it is a team that should be able to give any of the Trolley League teams a hard struggle.

Central is lucky this year, however in having several other excellent men that make the letter men worry over their positions. No man in Central is yet certain of a berth on the team. Taylor played in several games last year and promises to make a big success this year. Then Central has two new men in school that look very promising. They are Retorff and Janer. Both of these fellows played on their high school teams last year.

Among the Junior class there are several good basketball players. Principal among these are Hunter, Devos and Mitchell. Coach Detrick is confident of discovering other material among the expected candidates.

Of Fred Wallace, athletic instructor of both Central and South, has been playing basketball games along with the regular gym work and has discovered some players that will probably find berths on the team. The

ATHLETES TO BE GIVEN LETTERS

Both Central and South have numerous letter men this year. The official record of who have earned letters is not yet complete, there are expected to be about twenty-five fellows that will get the coveted letter.

Among the Centralites who have earned their letters are: Laughlin, Dille, Robinson, Harfuz, Fritz, Drew, Hunter, Young, Blunk, Mitchell, Retorff Taylor, Douglas, Evans, and Aab.

SOUTH'S LETTER MEN

South Hi have a similar large number. These men are expected to secure letters: Quillen, Ireland, Shaw, Brown, Peltier, Smith, Berger, Welnagardner, Fannett, Dally, Williams, Paab, Goodrich.

The letters will be presented to them as soon as the official record of quarters is completed.

South has been completely swamped by the total scores of their opponents against them. South played nine games this season. They have defeated Delphos twice. They have failed to score on any Trolley League team except Central. The total points are: South—63, Opponent—250.

Central has more than half as many points as their opponents for the past season. They have defeated two Trolley League teams and tied one. They have scored on every Trolley League team except Postoria. Central has played eight games. The total points are: Central—30, Opponent—155.

BLUNK SOME KICKER!

An interesting feature of Central's team is that Capt. Blunk has only missed one goal all season. This was in the first game against Bowling Green.

His record is: Kicked—12, missed—1.

Central has advanced in the Trolley League from tied for the cellar last year to tied for third place this year. South has remained in the cellar for two years.

The Trolley League standing is:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Postoria	5	0	1000
Findlay	3	2	600
Central	2	2	500
Tiffin	2	2	500
Bowling Green	1	4	200
South	0	5	000

EASTERN SQUAD DURS WESTERN AT SEATTLE

SEATTLE, Wash. — Dartmouth easily defeated Washington University here Saturday 28 to 7 in the first east-west football of the season.

Altho neither team is considered a sectional champion, experts looked on the fray as a good argument on the merits of football material in the distant parts of the country.

Washington started the scoring with a spectacular run by Quarterback Abel in the first period. Robertson's punt was blocked in Washington's 42-yard line and Abel scooped up the ball, broke clear of the scrimmage and sprinted 65 yards for a touchdown. Captain Falk kicked goal.

The easterners held Washington from then, upholding a dazzling array of plays and formations which surprised their ardent admirers.

Dartmouth scored in the middle of the second period. A series of plunges put the ball on Washington's seven-yard line, where a forward pass over the line, R-bertson to Lynch, resulted in a touchdown and Cunningham kicked a goal.

The Hanoverians scored their remaining points in the second half of the game, their second touchdown resulting from poor punting by the Washingtonians.

Their other two scores, however, resulted from fast end running and strong line plunges and which play they had the edge over their Pacific adversaries.

FOOTBALL GAME TO BE PLAYED HERE TODAY

Two ex-college stars will be seen in action in a game to be played between the Bluffton Firestones and the Lima Signals, Sunday.

They are: Fred Kessler, formerly of the Texas Aggies and Bob Irving, formerly of the Marlow, Questions, who is a star tackle.

The Firestones have strengthened their line over 50 per cent lately by steady, hard playing of their manager who is one of the pillars of the line. The Firestones have as good a record as the Signals.

The Signals are determined to win this game and will play their hardest. The game was postponed Thanksgiving and a large crowd was disappointed. Both teams claim they will play this game despite the weather conditions.

The Signals' lineup in the same as has been used in other games this year. It is:

SIGNALS	PIRESTONES
E. Shive	1. e. Worthington
F. Whitford	1. t. Good
C. Smith	1. g. Cain
G. Basinger	c. Aurburger
R. Garrett	r. g. Furling
M. Steiner	r. t. H. Steiner
F. Kessler	r. e. R. Burkholder
M. Crohan	q. b. Patterson
H. Welly	r. h. A. Burkholder
S. Jamison	1. h. A. Amstutz

CASE LOSES LAST GAME

CLEVELAND, Ohio — The University of Alabama defeated Case School of Applied Science 40 to 0 here Saturday. The Clevelanders were badly outwitted and in spite of a gallant defense were overwhelmed by the southerners' heavy backs.

The Alabamians mixed passes with trick shifts. After halfback Lenon had run 20 yards for a score in the first period, a 29-yard pass, Stephen, to Clements, early in the second quarter, made the southerners' second score. In this period, an intercepted pass gave Case the ball on Alabama's ten-yard line, but Case lacked steam to put it over.

Halfback Lenon, of Alabama, scored his 23rd touchdown of the season in the third quarter. The work of Stephenson, Alabama fullback, featured the fourth period. He ran 42 yards for a touchdown, and followed it by a series of line plunges which sent him over for the final score of the game. O'Connell kicked four goals in six tries.

INDICTED BALL PLAYERS ARE HOPEFUL

CHICAGO — Pennant-winning members of the Chicago White Sox, indicted for alleged throwing of games in the world series with Cincinnati, still say they will be back in uniform before the end of the coming season.

Buck Weaver, third baseman, Saturday night expressed confidence that his innocence would be established at the trial of the eight baseball players named in the bill returned following the Cook-co grand jury investigation. Weaver pointed to his record in the series as sufficient to counter the charges.

EXPECT TO PLAY AGAIN

Chick Gandil and Oscar Felsch are other last season stars laying plans for rounding out their baseball careers. These players were counting on Charles A. Comiskey's promise of reinstatement if they are vindicated of the charges.

Cook-co officials prepared Saturday night to speed up the trials.

The criminal court docket has the baseball trial buried under nearly 100 other matters and scheduled for early in June.

Judge Robert E. Crowe, newly elected prosecuting attorney, who will have charge of the cases, said he favored rushing the trials to give the besmirched Sox opportunity to cleanse their names before the 1921 schedule is half out.

CROWE MAKES PLANS

Crowe said he intended ordering players arrested and arraigned immediately after he takes office, thus opening the legal doors.

Judge Keneaw Mountain Landis baseball's new chief, is expected to be consulted regarding the trials.

Landis also will have full sway in drafting future laws—federal and state—to be advocated for curbing the gambling evil, according to plans

EAST TECH WINS MORE RIGHTS

CLEVELAND — East Tech High, of Cleveland, won the right to play eastern and far-western teams for the National High School football championship, by defeating West Tech, their rivals, for the city title, 7 to 0 here Saturday.

East Tech won a leg on the sectional race by defeating Scott High of Toledo a week ago. With their local rivals shaved, negotiations are proceeding for game, with the high schools of Pittsfield, Mass., and Everett, Wash., to decide the national championship.

GARFORD IS WINNER

The Garford basketball squad easily defeated the Wayne Trolley League Saturday night by a score of 25 to 17 at Wayne's old. Mahan, Crutello, Vandell, LePau, and Taylor composed the local team. Taylor scored 12 points of the local's score. May and Newland starred for Wayne's.

FIRST in MILEAGE

THE White Company publishes annually a list of White Trucks reported by their owners as having rounded out 100,000, 200,000 and 300,000 miles, still in active service.

Spread over such mileages, the investment in White transportation is a small item indeed. It is written off the books long before the truck's EARNING POWER is impaired.

Summary of 1920 List

Number of Owners	Number of Trucks	Mileage
14	28	300,000 miles and more
55	95	200,000 to 300,000 miles
86	124	150,000 to 200,000 miles
304	558	100,000 to 150,000 miles

We will gladly furnish upon request the full list of White owners operating trucks with mileage records of 100,000 miles and more. Write for it.

The majority of the trucks included in this list are necessarily among the first built by the company. Their number is already so large in proportion to the early output as to indicate that 100,000 miles is universal for veteran White Trucks. Even 200,000 miles is not an uncommon performance.

Mysterious Firebug Operates in Western Pennsylvania

PUZZLES POLICE OFFICIALS

He Signs His Name As "Arsene
Lupin No. 2"

INDIANA, Pa.—The thieving Arsene Lupin, of Paris, has his counterpart in Firebug Arsene, Lupin, No. 2, of this city. In fact, the mysterious firebug of Western Pennsylvania has something on his Paris namesake, according to local and state police records. Six times the Indiana Arsene Lupin has made good his threats, promptly as he scheduled his fires, and in each instance he has escaped without detection. Police here think the local man who styles himself Arsene Lupin No. 2 is a dangerous lunatic or someone who is seeking revenge against Charles Nollenberger, the proprietor of the Central Hotel, which has been visited by six fires recently.

At least there is some method in the madness of the firebug. Compare these two letters. Compare these two letters.

MONSIEUR.—At twenty-three minutes after 10 this evening I will appear at the masked ball to be given Mme. Montspan. Two minutes later I shall remove the pearl necklace worn by the hostess. Be prepared.

ARSENE LUPIN

State Police, Indiana, Pa.:
Sirs: As soon as your back is turned I will start a new fire at the Central Hotel. Be prepared.

ARSENE LUPIN NO. 2.

And he did.

Blending the cordon of police placed at advantageous places about the hotel, the firebug who has been causing sleepless and excited nights, effected a new and sixth entrance to the Central Hotel shortly after 4 o'clock in the morning, started a fire in the basement of the hotel underneath the kitchen, saw that it was burning nicely and briskly, then escaped.

JEERS AT POLICE

The fire was discovered a few minutes later, and by the time the volunteer department arrived the worst fire of the series was in full blast, but was soon extinguished after the firemen got to work, but not before the flames had eaten their way thru the kitchen floor.

The previous five fires at the Central Hotel, while not serious by any means, have caused considerable damage. In nearly every instance the firebug has written some sort of a threatening or warning note, jumping at the efforts of the police to catch him.

In his sixth exploit, seemingly regardless of the fact that he was shot at (and missed) during the early hours of the morning—previous to setting to place a fire—he but awaited his opportunity and then carried on still further his work of arson.

The description of the man responsible for the fires has been sifted down to a person of medium height, wearing a dark grey overcoat and a light grey hat. That description might fit a dozen or so people in Indiana, and that is as far as the local and state police have got. During the night of his sixth exploit, a day or so ago, watchers saw him come to the window of the hotel. A shot was fired at him, but the bullet missed his mark and the man fled. Then a couple of hours after he set the hotel afire.

Lieutenant Stout, of the Greensburg (Pa.) troop of state police, has just arrived here to take charge of the investigation. He, with others under his command, are still at a complete loss to the police. The two fires, one that a fireman set of revenge—the other that it is results. The fires are continuing. The firebug is laughing at the officers of the law and the townfolk are becoming nervously exhausted. Meanwhile the folks are awaiting the fire alarm, and the new fire two tools which will be the signal for yet another disturbance at the Central Hotel.

Fine woodworking shows in Brunswick cabinets

WHILE most people buy The Brunswick because of its superior tone and its ability to play all records at their best, no one overlooks the beautiful cabinet work and finish.

In this particular, it is natural that The Brunswick should be supreme, for the House of Brunswick has been noted for nearly a century for its craftsmanship in wood.

The Brunswick Method of Reproduction is a many-year development.

First it brought the Ultona, the first in-built, all-record reproducer—then The Brunswick Tone Amplifier.

In this finer instrument the amplifier is entirely of wood, like a violin, and tone waves can expand properly. Every acoustic law is observed.
